Friend Of McCarthy Raps Hearing

Says Attempt Made To "Assassinate His Character"

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate hearing took an unexpected turn today after a friend of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) put out a letter declaring attempts were being made at the hearing "to assassinate a senator's character and political career by innuendo and foul play."

The writer of the letter, Clark Wideman, Columbus, O., real estate broker, was immediately called before the Senate elections subcommittee and acknowledged under sharp questioning that the letter had been typed in McCarthy's office.

Wideman testified he had written the letter in longhand in his hotel room but got a girl in McCarthy's office to type it. He said he went to McCarthy's office because it was the place he was "most familiar with" on Capitol Hill.

The subcommittee is holding hearings on a resolution by Sen. Benton (D-Conn) aimed at unseating McCarthy.

Charge Ethics Violated

Specifically under inquiry is Benton's charge that McCarthy violated senatorial ethics by accepting $10,000 for an article on housing from the Lustron Corp., which went into bankruptcy after heavy borrowings from the government.

McCarthy says his acceptance of the money was entirely proper. He has filed a two million dollar libel suit against Benton and asked a Senate investigation of Benton.

Thomas V. O'Sullivan, a public relations counselor, was testifying when Wideman sent his letter to Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) and distributed copies among newsmen.

Wideman said in the letter he had been subpenaed to testify Monday in the inquiry but "after three days of waiting I still have not been called to testify, nor have I been able to learn when, if ever, I shall be called."

He wrote that during these days "I have been listening to your counsel questioning witnesses repetitiously and carrying them far afield from the subject of the inquiry."

"Anti-McCarthy Bias"

"I have observed in the offices of your staff an anti-McCarthy bias so strong that I doubt if any fair and judicious results can be obtained from this hearing."

On Tuesday afternoon, he said, he saw in the committee staff offices a witness "being scolded severely by a staff member for

McCarthy's Friend Former Marion Man

Sen McCarthy's friend Clark Wideman is a former Marion resident. He was educated here and later started in newspaper work in Marion. He left the city several years ago to accept employment by a Columbus newspaper.

He left the newspaper field to become associated in a public relations firm, which for a time was engaged in promoting the sale of low-cost housing. It was while in this work that he met Sen. McCarthy, who in the fall of 1950 made several speeches in central Ohio, including one in Marion, in support of low-cost housing. McCarthy appeared here in connection with a real estate development planned, but never effected, by Bob Byers, Columbus real estate dealer.

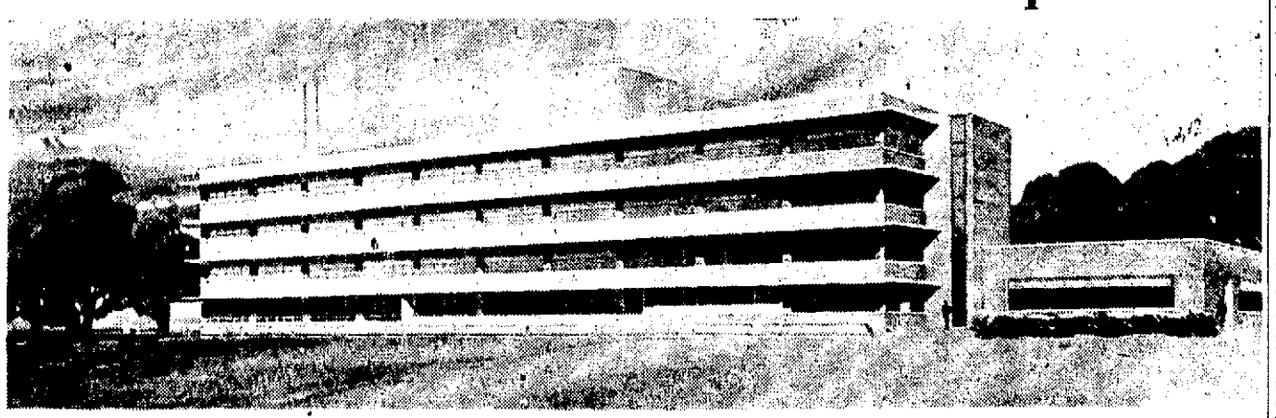
Byers testified at a bankruptcy hearing in Federal Court in Columbus last year that the pamphlet on housing written for the Lustron Corp. by Sen. McCarthy was actually written by Wideman.

Byers testified that an agreement with the Lustron Corp. called for a fee of "$10,000 to $25,000" to be split three ways between McCarthy, Wideman, a Byers publicist at the time, and Byers, who was to act as an adviser.

Byers said, however, that he did not receive any money from the pamphlet venture.

Planned for Maximum Efficiency

Architects' Preview of New Marion Hospital



SOUTH SIDE OF THE PROPOSED NEW HOSPITAL IS shown in the architect's drawing. It is a view of the main wing which would contain bedrooms and wards. The wing would run east and west. On the extreme east end is a one-story addition which would serve as a public health center.

Marion General Hospital will be a modern T-shaped structure designed for maximum efficiency with the least number of personnel, completed plans indicate.

Architect's plans have been drawn up under direction of Dan A. Carmichael of Columbus, who heads what is regarded as one of the nation's top hospital designing firms.

Normal capacity of the hospital as now planned will be 150 beds and 46 bassinets with a capacity load of 172 beds.

Generally, the building will be divided into two wings—the main wing running east and west and the administrative wing north and south. In the main wing will be private rooms and wards and the administrative wing will contain operating rooms, delivery rooms, and offices.

The main wing will be about 265 feet long and 48 feet wide. Joining it in the center will be the administrative wing which is planned to be about 101 feet long and 46 feet wide.

On the ground floor will be kitchen and laundry facilities and storage rooms. The first floor will contain a children's section and laboratories and in the main wing are offices.

On the second floor will be wards and rooms for patients in the main wing and operating rooms in the administrative wing.

The entire third floor will be for maternity cases with private rooms and wards for mothers, delivery rooms, and nurseries.

There will be a fourth floor in the main wing only and it will be exact duplicate of the second floor with rooms and wards for regular patients.

Highest point of the entire structure will be the shaft for elevators. It will be 176 feet high. The main wing will be about 146 feet high.

Bids on Local Project Total $2.9 Million

Training School Contracts May Be Awarded Soon

The state public works director today announced low bids for construction at the new Marion Training School total $2,942,667, The Associated Press reported.

The bids were taken May 7 but the director withheld release of them until they were evaluated. The bids will not be acted upon until the next meeting of the State Board of Control within the next few days.

Public Works Director Samuel O. Linzell declined to say whether he would recommend approval of all the low bids. State law says the lowest and best bid shall be awarded.

The low bid for general construction was $1,824,165 by the Steinle-Wolfe Co. of Fremont. This includes a large power house, three buildings for segregation, admissions and custodial care, a library and five dormitory units to house 600 inmates.

Other low bids: heating and ventilation, $568,801, Piping Contractors Co., Columbus; electrical work $212,668, Westgate Electric Co., Columbus; plumbing, $314,160, Lieb-Jackson Co., Columbus; powerhouse chimney, $22,873, International Chimney Corp., Buffalo, N. Y.

Linzell said all the low bids were within the estimates set by the department. The state has set aside approximately $3,250,000 for the construction.

MAY LIFT LIQUOR CONTROLS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials said today price controls on liquor probably will be lifted soon because the industry faces a critical situation caused by over-supply and a sharp drop in sales.

FIRE LOSS $4,600,000

HONG KONG (AP)—Firemen today extinguished a warehouse fire which fire brigade officials estimate caused $4,600,000 damage. The warehouse was crammed with merchandise originally destined for Red China but held here by British and U.S. embargoes.

Aids Work on Wyandot Co. Mystery

Experts Construct Murder Victim's Description

By EMORY ANDERSON

UPPER SANDUSKY—Law enforcement officers today are one step advanced toward solving the riddle of Wyandot County's bizarre "dynamite murder". They have a fairly complete description of the murder victim.

Officers throughout the state are searching files and missing persons reports in an attempt to find someone matching the description.

The burned out car found near Nevada early Saturday enters more and more into the picture as a link in the chain of evidence.

In spite of the severe heat which resulted when the car burned, fragmentary remains of blood were found in the trunk of the car. This links the car, a 1949 two-door Ford sedan with the killing since it was believed that the body was carried to the scene in the trunk of the car.

Probable Description

Here's the way law enforcement officers believe the victim looked before his death.

He was about 25 years old, white, and weighed about 200 pounds. He was rather short, between five feet and five feet six inches tall, probably about five feet three inches tall.

He had light brown hair with a receding hairline, and light

Tanker Burns After Canal Collision

4 Crewmen Missing In Ship Crash Near Wilmington, Del.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Two ships collided halfway through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal today, unleashing a series of explosions on the oil tanker F. L. Hayes. Four crewmembers are missing.

Five of the tanker's 10-man crew leaped into the 200-foot wide waterway and paddled ashore. Another was rescued from the water.

Flames visible for five miles engulfed the west-bound Hayes soon after the collision with the steamship Barbara Lykes shortly after midnight.

Army Engineers at Chesapeake City, Md., said a third ship, the Angelina, was damaged slightly by the explosions although it was not involved in the collision.

Two of the Angelina's crew were reported hurt slightly. The ship was able to proceed to Philadelphia where it docked several hours later.

At daybreak a column of black smoke rolled lazily over the Delaware countryside from the still burning tanker. The 240-foot Hayes was carrying 700,000 gallons of high octane gasoline.

No one tried to put the fire out. Firemen were unable to get close enough to battle the flames. Mud banks and woods border the canal.

WAR BILL PRESENTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $1,413,820,000 deficiency appropriation bill, most of it to foot Korean war costs, was sent to the House today by its appropriations committee. The total is $61,600,000 less than President Truman had requested.

AID PROGRAM CRITICISED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—America's foreign aid program, now supporting "corrupt, reactionary regimes," should instead be directed at the peasants, says Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. Speaking at a convention of the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union Wednesday, Douglas urged that the U.S. shift the aim of its foreign aid program from the landlord to the peasant.

There'll Be Some Changes, Says Koje Chief

KOJE ISLAND, KOREA (AP)—The outspoken new commandant of Koje Island said today "you're damned right" there will be changes in running this turbulent war prison camp, but "no sudden revolutionary change."

After 24 hours on the job, Brig. Gen. Haydon Boatner said he though Communist prisoners had been treated too leniently.

Had he seen anything that needs to be changed?

"You're damned right I've spotted some things," he said. "For one thing I don't like those insulting signs, and the flags and the demands."

The signs were insulting to the

Word From Clark On Koje Awaited

Detailed Report On Embarrassing Incident Expected Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon high command expected to receive from Gen. Mark Clark today a detailed report on Clark's investigation of how Communist war prisoners on Koje Island managed to seize a brigadier general and extort diplomatically embarrass statements from his successor.

High defense officials conferred by cable with the new United Nations commander for Korea Wednesday and were understood to have been told by Clark he would be able to discuss the incident in some detail today.

Following this, Clark talked with the two officers involved, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, who was commander of Koje camp when he was captured by the prisoners, and Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson, who succeeded Dodd but who himself was removed from command after he reportedly had made concessions to the prisoners in order to secure Dodd's release.

Disturbed by Sentence

Pending Clark's detailed report, the Defense Department gave no indication of receding from its position that the "agreement" signed by Colson gave certain "erroneous impressions." The Pentagon, the Far East Command and diplomatic officials were particularly upset over a sentence contained in Colson's message to the Red prisoners which said, "I do admit that there have been instances of bloodshed where many prisoners of war have been killed and wounded by U.N. forces" and assurance that "in the future the prisoners of war can expect humane treatment."

The official disavowal of these statements pointed out the incidents referred to by Colson were brought on some time ago by rioting prisoners. And the Defense Department commented, with a note of warning, that no further such incidents are expected "un-

Says It Has No Validity Whatsoever

Claims Gen. Colson Had No Authority To Agree To Demands

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark today repudiated the much criticized "Colson agreement" with Red prisoners of war on Koje Island. "It has no validity whatsoever," Clark said.

The United Nations commander said Brig. Gen. Charles Colson, temporary prison camp commander, since removed, had no authority to "accept any of the vicious and false charges" made by Reds.

Colson signed the statement to win the release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, former prison camp commander. North Korean prisoners held Dodd hostage 78 hours last week. Communists are now using the agreement for propaganda in truce negotiations.

General Clark said today:

"The exchange of communications between Brig. Gen. Colson and the inmates of compound 76 who were holding Brig Gen. Dodd by force and violence has no validity whatsoever.

"The circumstances under which these exchanges took place from the very beginning were those of duress involving the physical threat to the life of a U. N. officer. Investigation made so far indicates that this affair was carefully prepared to manufacture propaganda for the purpose of beclouding the whole prisoner-of-war issue at Panmunjom (truce) negotiations.

Didn't Have Authority

"General Colson's authority to deal with the prisoners in compound 76 did not extend to authority for him to purport to accept any of the vicious and false charges upon which the Communist demands were based."

The Colson agreement, under which the POWs released Dodd Saturday night, is under heavy fire in Washington. The U. S. military command and some Congressmen declared it implies the U. N. command treated prisoners of war in inhumane fashion. All echelons of the U. N. command say this isn't so.

Statements which drew particular censure, and which North Korean Gen. Nam Il seized upon for new verbal attacks on the allies in Panmunjom truce talks, were:

"Many prisoners of war have been killed or wounded by United Nations forces." Prisoners "can expect humane treatment in the future. "There will be no more forcible screening."

American authorities quickly stated: Prisoners have been killed only in riots instigated by the Communist prisoners themselves: Prisoners have been treated humanely: and there never has been "forcible screening" to determine whether prisoners want to go back to Red rule.

The Colson agreement also provided for prisoner committees.

Repercussions Expected

Clark's repudiation was expected to have prompt repercussion in armistice negotiations and on the Communist radio.

Colson has been returned to his old command as chief of staff of the First Army Corps in Korea and Dodd is back with U. S. Eighth Army headquarters.

Rebellious Koje prison camp is now under command of an old China hand, Brig. Gen. Haydon Boatner. He relieved Colson Tuesday.

Clark got a first hand account of the kidnaping and release of Dodd from the two former Prison camp commandants yesterday. Clark said:

"Speculative press reports to the effect that Generals Dodd and Colson were verbally reprimanded by me at this conference are totally without foundation."

This statement was made several hours before the U. N. commander repudiated Colson's Koje agreement.

A high officer explained that in military usage a reprimand is an official rebuke which closes a case.

Clark said: "The investigation of the circumstances surrounding the seizure of General Dodd by Communist prisoners of war and the negotiations leading to his subsequent release is continuing and will be concluded at an

Faced Down

IT WILL NOT be surprising if the prison-camp incident at Koje grows into a major problem for the U.S. military minds which are handling it.

It is reasonable to guess, even in the absence of official statements, that the seizure of Brig. Gen. Dodd by Communist prisoners of war and the concessions made by Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson to obtain Dodd's release have brought into sharp focus the issue of how to maintain western prestige in Asia.

The fact a military commander was faced down by being captured and that his rescuer was faced down by making concession is a more serious matter among Asiatics than can be realized by western minds . . .

Yet, even in recent prison riots in this country concessions to prisoners were criticized sharply.

Western minds are balanced by a strong sense of equity and fair play. Oriental minds are guided by an even stronger sense of respect for power and prestige. In the oriental code, any concession is likely to be judged as a sign of weakness, not a sign of strength.

The problem for U.S. military minds dealing with Asiatics is how to reconcile their attitudes to western attitudes. In the Koje incident, it looks as if there might have been too much reconciliation, not enough firmness.

In Restraint of Something

A TIE-UP in the oil industry, even more than a strike in the steel industry, would point up the problem of coercive action of labor unions.

Great progress has been made toward a situation in the oil industry which would make each contract renewal a national crisis. Not only one union but a number of unions would be involved in joint action.

The pattern of nationwide bargaining which was first sought by United Mine Workers in the coal industry and finally was brought about by United Steel Workers in the steel industry is emerging in the oil industry.

Whether or not this would fall into the category of action in restraint of trade if the Sherman Act applied to labor unions is a moot point. The Sherman Act does not apply to labor unions at present.

But if steel, oil and perhaps eventually automobiles, rubber and coal can be tied up at will by the concerted action of one or more unions, precipitating one crisis after another, it goes without saying that such action would be in restraint of something not envisioned half a century ago when labor unions were specifically exempted from the Sherman Act.

Voluntary Security

IF YOU are paying old-age security taxes to the federal government, you will have no trouble spotting the joker in a proposal to let professional people and self-employed citizens save up for old age by tax exemptions on a fixed percentage of their net incomes.

Everybody would jump at a chance to get a tax exemption on his savings, which is what is being proposed for the professionals and self-employed. Many now paying taxes for old-age benefits would prefer to save their own money voluntarily, instead of paying taxes.

Moreover, since old-age benefits are not supposed to be any more than a minimum foundation for security and are intended to be padded out with income from voluntary savings, all social-security participants would like a tax exemption.

This is not to say that doctors, lawyers, preachers, farmers and other self-employed persons do not deserve tax exemption for money put away for old-age security. It only says that if they were to be given that inducement, everyone else would have an equal right to claim it.

Havin' Any Fun?

A DELIGHTFUL letter to the Washington Post by David L. Cohn a few days ago voiced the wishful hope that Americans may continue to have fun as usual out of this year's election.

The writer, himself, obviously was having a fine time. He submitted a list of requirements for a perfect presidential candidate which would make even the candidates chuckle. His plea for preservation of the national sense of humor is as sound as the ideal candidate he described.

It is the best of all safeguards against loss of perspective, as anyone who has been "witticized" for seeing things out of focus can testify. The purpose is not to reduce everything to jesting, which in itself would be a loss of perspective, but to balance the heavy with the light—to spot those little and large absurdities which are inherent in public affairs and to enjoy them.

Enlarging on Mr. Cohn's proposition a little, is it possible that the United States is the only country which has a tradition of playing politics with humor and that this may have been its saving grace?

Plant Seizures a Failure

By David Lawrence

Unsatisfactory To Both Labor and Employers

WASHINGTON . . .CONGRESS HAS BEEN considering various bills to legalize seizure of plants when labor disputes become acute but nearly everyone who has studied the history of such proposals is agreed that seizure presents no real solution and is not satisfactory either to labor unions or employers.

There are ways of achieving industrial peace and they have worked heretofore. During World War II, for example, the national labor and industrial organizations gave a no-strike and no-lockout pledge. Management and labor also agreed to refer their disputes to the War Labor Board for determination. For all practical purposes, the decisions of the board were final and binding, and the decisions could be enforced through seizure of a plant or industry.

This method, however, cannot be tried again unless the abuses which crept in before are eliminated. If one side or the other doesn't play the game on the level and if above all a governmental board deliberately goes beyond its function and attempts to solve what are known as non-economic disputes as distinguished from economic or dollars-and-cents questions growing out of wages and working rules, then the way is opened to the collapse of the entire plan.

The War Labor Board made a tragic blunder when it arbitrarily introduced into some of its settlements a clause permitting a "maintenance of membership" arrangement whereby employes then members of unions were required to continue to pay dues or get out of the union after a 15-day-notice period. Once the employes joined, they were bound to remain members of the union. It is from this unfortunate and vague precedent that the Wage Stabilization Board leaped into the "union shop"—a form of compulsory unionization that has nothing to do with war conditions or a national emergency and constitutes really an ingenious trick to use the cloak of wartime to get an advantage in labor politics.

IF, HOWEVER, governmental boards are confined to the dollars-and-cents issues of wages while price boards are confined to issues relating solely to prices, the problem of seizure to obtain enforcement becomes academic and remote.

Congress asked President Truman—in fact, directed him—to call a labor-management conference when it passed the Defense Production Act of 1950. The nation might have been operating under no-strike and no-lockout pledges at this time but, for reasons best known to the Machievellian advisers of the President, no such conference was called. The administration's strategy was to get around and ignore the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, too, because the labor union leaders wanted it done that way.

It may well be asked what provisions of law can ever be written which will induce an executive or his subordinates governed by political expediency to respect a law or make use of it if it doesn't conform to political aims to do so. But if laws on seizure are to be written, it will be of no avail to urge that the profits of industry be impounded and turned over to the U.S. Treasury. This is the proposal of radicals who believe that form of coercionism would enslave management. But it wouldn't. Involuntary servitude is just as extreme when applied to management as it is to labor. Labor unions claim the right as individuals to quit work, and so do managers. The answer doesn't lie in that direction any more than it would in proposing—as an amendment certainly would be proposed—that labor union funds also go into governmental treasuries simultaneously with the receipts of the companies or that uncooperative officers be replaced by those appointed by the government.

TO HOLD the "status quo" during seizure—making wage increases only by agreement between management and labor unions — is no solution either. There are occasions when such agreements are not possible, and the moment the government undertakes, during seizure, to impose working conditions and terms, one side or the other is bound to be aggrieved.

The solution is to be found by eliminating all non-economic issues and confining government arbitration — for that's what it really is—to economic issues. But, in addition to this, the same agency which grants the wage increases, must be conscious of and empowered to deal with the effects on the price said. It's a simple solution, and were it not for the one-sided nature of the so-called "public" members of the government boards and the unscrupulous policies of the administration in power which throws fairness and equity out the window as it clasps to its bosom the political influence of pressure groups, there would not be any major labor dispute which couldn't be solved without seizure. Honest government, fair government—a government such as Jefferson envisaged with "equal rights for all and special privileges for none"—doesn't need any seizure laws.

Call Me Doctor

By TRUMAN TWILL

You be what you want to be if you ever get a chance to be what you are not—and I'll be a veterinarian. No kidding.

When the last of the Twillery lambs was born a few days ago (one more than had seemed possible) for a grand total of 16, there was a minor detail to be taken care of—16 minor details. Any way you figure it, this was a two-man job.

Under the circumstances, it seemed like a good idea to call it a professional detailer, with professional skill and professional implements.

It really was a good idea. In less time than it would have taken an amateur to whet a knife and pep-talk an unwilling assistant into service, the details were laid out in a row on the barn floor and the cropped lambs were being comforted by their mothers. The vet did the work. I assisted.

This is probably as unimportant a part of being a veterinarian as could be cited to illustrate what these men—and women—do. Yet it is one of the numerous skills practiced by these liaison officers between human beings and the lower branches of the animal kingdom.

Anyone who has had reason to call on them, to save the life or ease the suffering of a pet, some valuable animal, or, as in the case of the Twillery lambs, a group of animals, has been as grateful to the vets as he has been on other occasions to the medicos.

And that is why if I could go back to the years of decision and make another one, knowing what I know now, I would want to be a vet. In a civilization which has outgrown the barbaric treatment of animals, these people perform as great a service to the world as the members of any professional group.

It is no accident of humane impulse that the United States has the finest animals found anywhere—so superior that they are being sent to other countries as breeding stock. It is because men and women have been devoting their lives to taking care of animals intelligently and improving them from generation to generation, which is more than anyone has been doing for people.

Most of the progress in veterinary medicine has been made in this century. Since 1900, the care of animals has passed from the hit-and-miss methods of handymen to the scientifically-exact methods of highly-trained professionals. Standards have been established and adhered to; in nutrition alone, a miracle has been performed.

I won't have a chance to be a veterinarian. But I can appreciate what veterinarians do, and I can think of only one thing that would be more gratifying at the end of a hard day than to realize I had helped do it. Human medicine, perhaps, but humans are so mean to handle and can cook up so many complications.

Attention, Mr. Employer

Troubled Scene Viewed in Germany

By James Marlow

FIRES ARE BUILDING in Germany. Here's how they were started:

The Big Four—United States, Russia, Britain, France—divided Germany into four occupation zones at war's end. The struggle for Germany between Russia and the West began.

Years passed. No hope in sight for peace treaty with united Germany. Russians set up puppet government, Communist-controlled in East Germany. Western Allies let West Germans have own government, headed by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The occupying forces stayed but the Allies allowed Adenauer's government much freedom. The western allies formed the Atlantic defense pact. This meant building an army. European partners in the pact were to be the core of it: France, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Italy.

SINCE THIS WOULD be less than an army without the West Germans, they were offered a deal:

1. A contractual agreement. Fancy name for what in effect would be a peace treaty with West Germany, linking it with the West. Adenauer was for it.

2. West Germany was asked to contribute troops for the European army. Not the same as letting Germany re-arm as it pleased. Its troops would be part of the European army, not a new German war machine.

The Russians, instead of pulling all Germany into the Soviet orbit, were losing West Germany to the Allies. So they offered a deal March 10:

(1) Germany should be unified; (2) the Big Four should finally sign that long-delayed peace treaty; (3) Germans should be allowed to re-arm and make their own weapons; (4) new, unified Germany couldn't make any military alliances.

The purpose was clear; by appealing to the old German nationalism and giving the West Germans a vision of a new Germany, the Russians hoped to split them from the West and wreck the European army.

THERE WERE GIMMICKS in this. Once the Allies were out of the new Germany, German Communists could work to take over the government from within.

But the Russian proposal put the Allies on the spot. The Russians would look like heroes to the Germans, the Allies like villians, if the latter turned down the tricky Russian offer cold. The Allies said they were interested, sent the Russians a note, objecting to some of the Russian notions, offering some of their own. The Russians answered back. Tuesday night the Allies sent the latest note in the series. Nothing's happened yet, nothing may. But here briefly is what the two sides propose:

No. 1. Before the Russian idea of unifying all Germany can be carried out, the Allies insist, all Germans must be able to vote for a new government in free elections. They don't want Communist-rigged elections in East Germany.

But how could anyone be sure the elections were free? The Russians suggested the Big Four handle that one. More of that endless bickering between the West and Russia? The Allies said no, thanks, they want an impartial commission to take care of the free election problem.

No. 2. The Russians said the Big Four should go to work at once on a peace treaty for a unified Germany, but the Allies said: Whoa, no treaty talks start before a new and United German government can take part.

No. 3. The Allies took a dim view of Russia's plan to let all Germany re-arm.

No. 4. The Allies rejected the Russian suggestion that a united Germany be forbidden to make military alliances.

Communists in Germany rioted this week over the contractual agreement, which may soon be signed, and threatened reprisals. Moscow's press warned Adenauer's government against signing.

Japan's Dilemma

By George E. Sokolsky

THE UNITED STATES objects to Japan trading with Soviet China, as that would strengthen the enemy who is actually engaged in killing our sons. The United States would prefer that Japan cultivate a trade with Southeast Asia; that is, the Philippines, Malaya, Siam, Burma, India, etc. Before the war, Japan had cultivated markets in all these areas, competing principally with Great Britain.

Great Britain desires that Japan should trade with Soviet China, which the British swiftly recognized and continue to trade with in spite of the miserable fact that Soviet China is murdering British soldiers as well as American soldiers, if fewer in number. Great Britain desires that Japan should keep out of Southeast Asia, which has long been a British hunting ground. If the British can keep Japan out of areas in Asia which they have pre-empted, they will have more dollars by selling the produce of these areas at high, cartelized prices to the United States.

This conflict of interest between the United States and Great Britain can only produce poverty, hunger and revolution for Japan, which must import its food, only 20 per cent of the land being arable. Actually, Japan and Great Britain face an identical situation, namely, that the food and raw materials available are inadequate for the size of their population.

THIS IS A PRACTICAL question involving starvation. As long as the Americans occupied Japan, they saw to it that the Japanese were able to import their food supply. Now that Japan is independent and sovereign, the Japanese will have to find their own supplies. This can be arranged in two ways:

1. By exporting manufactured goods in exchange for dollar credits or bartered food and raw material supplies; or

2. Subventions, loans and credits, not to be repaid, from the United States.

This outlook is not particularly pleasant, but the complication increases because Japan must defend herself against her age-old enemy, Soviet Russia. No Japanese can doubt that Russia's objective in the Korean War is to conquer Japan. This can be done by war, by infiltration, and by revolution. The Communist Party in Japan is an old one and it has been permitted to re-establish itself during the American occupation.

If Japan is to expend an appreciable part of her national income on the manufacture of munitions of war, it will force upon the Japanese a decrease of available consumers' goods for the people. Taxes will have to underwrite a war budget.

JAPAN LOST the last war principally because she ran out of food and raw materials. Heroism does not achieve much when the civilian population is desperate for the simple things of life. We defeated Japan by siege tactics, by starving a nation into submission. It was excellent military strategy, but, for some political reasons, little was made of it in this country. Before the atom bomb was hurled

Hollywood and Caesar

HOLLYWOOD IS TO DO Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar." We look with apprehension as the movie folks swarm around the noblest Roman of them all and figure out how to make him appeal to the buttered popcorn trade and cause the housewife to drop everything and rush to the cinema. Mark Antony did not come to bury Caesar, but it is a reasonable bet that the Hollywood script boys will not only bury him but bury Shakespeare as well.

—:—

We wouldn't be surprised to see Clark Gable play Caesar, Humphrey Bogart do Mark Antony and Max Baer play Cassius. And they'll get Errol Flynn in some way, even if they have to have the "friends, Romans, countrymen" scene done on a yacht. Shakespeare's Caesar offers little for women screen stars. There's only Calpurnia, Caesar's wife, and Portia who is Brutus' frau. They may both come out in the Hollywood version as two babes named Jinx and Toots.

—:—

"Quo Vadis," "The Greatest Show on Earth" and "Apache Trail" are the year's big money makers, and Hollywood probably figures that in doing "Julius Caesar" it can gain the chariot motif from the first named, the "oh what a fall was that'" idea from the circus and probably open the show with Caesar returning from a triumphant war with redskins. That's the scene, you remember, where Mark three offers him a kingly crown. In the movies the offer and refusal can be done with a ballet, One offer made by Mark, with the other two by the ballet dancers.

We question whether the big assassination scene can be done a la Shakespeare, who had the conspirators file by Julius and knife him as they passed. It will take more than that to stir movie fans. We anticipate a frenzied dash by Caesar in a Cadillac (white walls and screeching brakes) with the Senators pursuing him around sharp corners while blazing away with sawed-off shotguns. ("Et tu, Brute!"is out. When Caesar sees that Brutus has turned on him, too, nothing less than "Drop that gun, you double-crossing . . . !" will suffice.)

—:—

It is also our belief that while Cassius merely refers in the play to the time he plunged into the Tiber and saved Caesar's life, this will develop into a big, colorful, super-swimming pool spectacle in Hollywood with Cassius played by Esther Williams. Box office is box office. There will, of course, be the problem of how to work in a sentimental scene in which Caesar and Calpurnia (who else!) are seated beside a haystack silhouetted against the rays of the setting sun, somewhere between his return from the wars and the big bump-off.

There is always the possibility of music. With Julius having a big preassassination number "Singing in the REIGN" and with the entire funeral oration cut out and replaced by Mark Antony singing "CRY." Camera!

(GUYS AND GUYS) . . . Ben Fairless, president of U.S. Steel, is an old-fashioned rocking chair addict. . . . (Does his heavy thinking in one at Big Steel headquarters. . . . But these days his problems are so many he may not be certain whether he is thinking while rocking or rocking while thinking.) . . . Jimmy Durante has wowed 'em in London where he has been voted top murderer of the King's English. . . . Mother's Day is over but we just heard of a florist who was too busy to send flowers to her. . . . Controls on installment buying are off and you can now get something you don't need with money that you haven't got.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Friday, May 15, 1942.

Led by American-made tanks, Marshal Semeon Timo Shenko's armies were reported to have advanced seven miles beyond the Donets river in their big offensive against Kharkov, the Soviet "Pittsburgh," after smashing more than 150 German tanks in two days.

In the Crimea, Hitler's field headquarters asserted that Russian defenders of the heights before Kerch, short cut to the great Caucasus oil fields, had been driven back and that German-Rumanian columns were at the gates of the town.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Kannel of 1073 Bennett St.

Mrs. Frederick Myers of King Ave. was hostess for a meeting of the Alumnae-Mother's group of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority.

Mrs. Robert M. Wills of 669 Concord Ave. left for St. Louis, Mo., where she was to make her home while Mr. Wills was stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

The Council of Church Women was organized, having as its objective a more united and cooperative interest in the spiritual and civic life of Marion. Mrs. Harry L. Bell, wife of Dr. Bell, pastor of Central Christian Church, presided.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Sunday, May 15, 1932.

Ray A. Lehner, former president of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce, was elected treasurer of the state organization in its annual convention held at Hotel Harding. Sherman W. Haldeman was elected a state director.

Miss Hallie Lou Chase of Marion and Charles H Underwood of Caledonia were united in marriage at Memorial M. E. Church in Caledonia by the pastor, Rev. W. P. Michel.

Charles N. Reeves, 62, former Marion resident, died in Kenton.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

My barber says he can't figure whether Johnny Ray is a phenomenon or a natural development of the times.

Years ago we had the Happiness Boys and the Cuckoo Hour with Ray Knight . . . Now we've got the sorrowful boy and the Washington broadcasts every night.

—:—

But we read the figures on Johnny Ray's last loyalty check and if he's smart he will continue to read them and weep.

—:—

It looks like there's a whole new set of formulas for success . . . One fellow gets rich crying instead of singing and a New York judge has another fellow singing instead of crying.

—:—

And if Ike can get a presidential nomination without talking for it a lot of women are going to have to give up their ideas of how to score a win with their husbands.

Coolidge had the job before he got christened Silent Cal . . . This boy may be carrying it too far.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

It's a nice old fashion-world—women can now buy their watches on the cuff.

The watchmakers of Switzerland have just introduced an innovation in time pieces: a tiny backwind watch built into a pair of gold cuff links.

There's another new lapel watch with the dial on a button no larger than the end of a pencil, and the movement concealed in a thin case that hides behind the wearers lapel.

The over-all trend in watches for summer is toward classic simplicity and delicacy. The Swiss watchmakers have just brought out, for instance, the smallest watch in history—an 18-carat, unadorned gold model with a dial the size of a match head.

In men's timepieces, the pocket watch is in for a big revival. They're as large in circumference as the old-time pocket models, but their newness lies in their slimness.

A man can now buy a pocket watch as thin as a knife blade, with its movement measuring only one and a half millimeters through its center.

secretary and Mrs. C. W. Smoot, assistant secretary.

New members elected to the board of directors are Dr. J. B. Holloway, Dr. Frank V. Murphy, Jr., David J. Isaly, George E. Turner of Marion, and M. C. Clements of LaRue.

Mr. Barnhart presided for the two meetings. Robert Kraner, blood program chairman, reported on a meeting held at Columbus recently when the budget to carry on the blood program was discussed. Marion county's share, he reported, has been estimated at around $3,500 to $3,750 to meet the expenses. This it was pointed out is due to an increase in the cost of operating the Blood Center in the Columbus area, which includes Marion County. Following a discussion Mr. Kraner was authorized to support the program insofar as the funds of the local organization permits, when he reports at a meeting to further discuss the matter, May 28, at Columbus.

Flood Disaster Fund Report

Mr. Larsen, disaster chairman for the chapter, reported on contributions received for the flood disaster victims. To date $334 has been received in the containers placed throughout the county. Containers at school and banks still are to be collected, he reported.

Mrs. Mabel Cheetham, home service secretary, reported on plans of the Red Cross to care for the exchange of prisoners of war when and if called upon to serve in this capacity. Information on the plans received by the chapters, show that the first point of contact will be at or near the Thirty-Eighth Parallel. Arrangements have been made for hospitalization of veterans, aiding them in contacting their families and providing for other care and comforts. The Red Cross is prepared should the exchange of POW become effective, she stated.

Charlton Myers was named to represent the chapter on the proposed steering committee to be set up by the United Appeals organization. Announcement was made of the national convention to be held at Cleveland June 23-25 and members were urged to attend one or more of the sessions. It was announced that plans had been completed for taking part in the Armed Forces Day parade tonight.

Members of a class now taking the Red Cross canteen course, served the dinner. Tables were attractive with bouquets of purple iris. Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, canteen chairman, was in charge.

"UNKNOWN"—BUT NOT FORGOTTEN. At the U. S. military cemetery in Anzio, Italy, Elena Bafile, 5, kneels as she places spring flowers on the grave of an unknown American soldier. It was here that the U. S. Sixth Corps of the Fifth Army established its historic beachhead some eight years ago and held out for four months against the savage attacks of the Nazis.

Grading Trout Eggs Task For Expert

SPRINGFIELD, Utah (UP)—Dean W. (Skinny) Johnson is an expert who earns his living in a unique way.

Johnson's specialty is that of a picker-outer of bad eggs from trout trays.

An employe of the Springville hatchery of the Utah fish and game commission, Johnson can spot bad eggs in the big trays of trout spawn so rapidly that he can remove up to 145 a minute with a syringe-type gadget.

The hatchery annually processes about 16 million fish eggs. It's Johnson's job to make sure that only live eggs, virtually certain to produce good fish, remain in the trays during the hatching season.

Edinburgh's famous floral clock on Princes Street uses 25,000 plants annually.

New Deal Boon To Farmers, Says Truman

Claims Planned Economy Works In Agriculture

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said today the New Deal and his own "Fair Deal" have proved a planned economy works in agriculture and in every other aspect of our national life.

Claiming on behalf of 20 years of Democratic administrations "a real revolution" in American farming, Truman at the same time hit out at "mossbacks" who object that the cost has been regimentation and socialism.

"All this talk about socialism is just plain hokum," the President declared in a speech prepared for an Agriculture Department ceremoney on the Washington monument grounds.

Although his address began as a few words of congratulation to some 140 department employes who were receiving achievement awards, it developed into a rousing defense of Democratic farm and other programs as well.

Truman said a great crusade on the part of the government has transformed most American farmers in 20 years from a state of real poverty to a prosperity that helps give the American people the highest living standard in history.

This, he said, is the very opposite of socialism.

"In 1932," the President said, "less than 58 per cent of the nation's farm were owned by the people who operated them.

"Today, after 20 years of what the mossbacks call 'socialism,' that figure has gone up to 75 per cent.

"That doesn't sound like socialism to me. It sounds like real free enterprise."

Truman said the Roosevelt administration found in 1933 that there had to be common-sense management of our national affairs in the interests of all the people.

ARRESTED FOR TRAIN RIDING

Ernest Powell, 42, of Johnson City, Tenn., was arrested on a charge of illegal train-riding at 2:13 a.m. Thursday. The arrest was made by Erie Railroad police. He was held for his appearance in Municipal Court today.

ALFRED A. GAGNON

Prisoner's Tip On Brink's Robbery Carefully Weighed

HOWARD, R. I., (AP) — Top law enforcers of two states today weighed carefully and somewhat skeptically the claims of a prisoner that he knows two of the men who participated in the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery in Boston in January, 1950.

Alfred A. Gagnon, 41, of Pawtucket, claimed inside information during five hours of questioning at Rhode Island State Prison where he is awaiting trial for attempting to rob a Providence diamond merchant.

Attorneys General Francis E. Kelly of Massachusetts and William E. Powers of Rhode Island later issued the following cryptic announcement:

"Mr. Gagnon has given us the names of two alleged principals connected with the Brink's holdup. Any other information he gave us must be investigated by police of Massachusetts and Rhode Island."

The two officials did not divulge the names of the two so-called principals nor did they reveal what value they placed on Gagnon's information.

Marion Garden Center Notes

GERANIUMS

Geraniums from the garden can be wintered over successfully, with care. Some gardeners dig geraniums and lay them on a shelf in the coolest section of the fruit cellar. Take precaution, however, to cover the roots of the plants with a little soil. Still another method calls for lifting the geraniums with a ball of earth and poting them. Such plants should be cut back severely. For the first month let the cut-back plants stand in a cool, light room. Water once a week. In November place the potted cut-back geraniums in a dark place in the cellar. Water just enough to keep them from completely drying out. Keep them in the cellar until May, when they can be planted out-doors again. Cuttings can be made from the sturdy top ends of the branches cut from plants "overwintered." Make the cuttings about 4 inches in length. Do not plant immediately but leave the cutting in the shade for a day. Plant by inserting the bottom end of the stem about two inches deep in sand or a mixture of half sand and half peat. Geraniums will flower all winter long when potted in the regular soil mixture from the garden. The plants grow best when the roots are restricted by rather small pots, just large enough to take the roots and allow for about half an inch of space around the inside of the container.

11,000 Once in Coast Guard Auxiliary

SPARs Now Enrolled Mainly in Reserve Unit

(Last of five articles on women in military services)

By JANE EADS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The United States Coast Guard, the nation's "oldest continuous seagoing fighting force," is not without its contingent of women in uniform—the classy SPARs.

Wearing a uniform like that of the WAVEs, but with Coast Guard insignia, the SPARs were established Nov. 23, 1942. Beginning with only a few members who transferred from the WAVEs, SPAR strength grew to about 11,000 by the end of the war. SPARs were permitted to serve only in the continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii.

Enlisted SPARs served in secretarial and accounting jobs, as radiomen in communications and minor repairs, as hospital men, recruiters, chaplains' assistants, commissary men, journalists, parachute riggers, drivers and engineering draftsmen. Officers were in charge of recruiting, personnel, programs.

All enlisted women were trained at Palm Beach, Fla. Officers were trained at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn. The name "SPARs" was coined by the corps' first director, Capt. Dorothy Stratton, attractive brunet—former dean of women at Purdue University. It came from the Coast Guard motto, "Semper Paratus—Always Ready."

The Coast Guard operates under the U. S. Treasury in peacetime and only serves with the Navy by executive order of the President in war or national emergency. All SPARs were separated after June 30, 1946, but a small reserve organization was maintained. For several years no SPARs were on duty. Then, Nov. 1, 1949, the Corps was reactivated, but it was not until a year later a few former SPARs were offered commissions and former enlisted personnel were offered reenlistment in a reserve. Even so, currently only 29 SPARs are on duty—11 officers and 18 enlisted personnel. But recruitment continues for the reserve unit.

Captain Stratton resigned in November, 1945 and is now national director of the Girl Scouts. She was succeeded by Capt. Helen Schleman, also from Purdue University. The SPARs at present have no director. "We're taking orders from the men," one of them told me. Lt. Comdr. Beatrice Ball, assigned to special services division at Coast Guard Headquarters here, is the senior officer on active duty.

Y Learn To Swim Classes Set June 2-18

The YMCA announced today plans for the annual Learn To Swim campaign which is conducted each year by the Marion association at no cost to entrants. The free swim campaign is one of the programs rendered to the youth of this community in coordination with the services of the Marion Community Foundation.

As in the past several years, the Learn To Swim campaign will be limited to fifth and sixth grade boys and girls from Marion and Marion County. Limitations as to sizes of classes have been necessary due to the size and locker room restrictions of the present building.

The campaign will run concurrently from June 2 until June 18, with boys' classes being conducted on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, with the girls assigned Tuesdays and Thursdays. The first period will be limited strictly to testing the preliminary abilities of all registrants. Assignment to one of the five skill groups will be made as a result of this testing program. No boy or girl will be accepted if they are able to successfully pass the five preliminary tests.

Instructors for classes will be Vern Miller, YMCA athletic director, Dean Ludwig, sophomore physical education major at the University of Michigan, John White and Dick Snyder. Instructors for girls' classes will be announced at a later date.

Registration forms should be mailed or delivered personally to the YMCA prior to the opening date June 2.

Free Swim Campaign

I wish to enroll in the Learn to Swim Campaign conducted by the YMCA. Dates of this program are June 2nd to June 18th. Boys' classes on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Girls' classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

DETROIT (UP)—When Charles G. Laing was ticketed for going through a red light he told the judge it was his first traffic summons in 50 years.

"If you've been driving that long," said the traffic refree, John M. Wise, "what kind of car is this?"

He held up a picture of an experimental car made in 1908 out of parts from other cars.

"That," said Laing, "is part Rolls Royce, part Reliance and part Pierce-Arrow with a dash of Ford."

"You're right," said Wise. "Case dismissed."

The Junior - Senior Prom is scheduled for Thursday, May 29, at the Hi-Way Rollarena. The arrangements are made by the junior class. They have engaged the "Skylarks" to play for the dance.

Class Day will be held at the Harding Stadium or the Coliseum, depending upon the weather. It will be Monday, June 2. Eddie Porter, senior class president, will speak, and Elwin Falor, junior class president, will give a response. Joe Thomas will read the class history. Jim Arnold will be in charge of distributing class prophecies to the seniors.

The Senior Breakfast is planned for graduation morning, June 3. Following the graduation exercises the seniors and their guests will attend the Senior Dance to be held at the Country Club. Earnie Duffield and his band will furnish the music.

Rose and silver are the class colors. The yellow tea rose is the flower. The class motto is "Today we learn, tomorrow we earn."

Senior exams will begin May 23. Junior and sophomore exams will start May 26 and last through May 28.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

PHILADELPHIA

THERE ARE TWO three-minute speeches made eight years apart, by men worlds apart, which dramatically disclose the passions that move the leaders of both sides in this massive showdown fight between giant labor and giant steel.

The first talk springs to mind as Philip Murray and his 3,000 CIO steelworkers' delegates meet here in Convention Hall to cheer the President of the U .S. and jeer the presidents of the big steel companies — in the very auditorium where Harry Truman, back in '48, had to fight for the nomination against the same steel union leaders, who then were for General Eisenhower as a sure winner.

That speech was hurled from the platform by Phil Murray at a Democratic-labor political rally in Pittsburgh in 1944. Calling for the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt and a Democratic Congress, Murray said fervently:

"I can remember when our people were eating out of garbage cans. We've got all of our eggs now in one basket."

Then, as now, that basket was the outspoken coalition with the White House. Then, as now, Phil Murray feared another recession would cripple labor's power as it did back after the first World War, when Murray saw his union, the mine workers, sickly and thinned down to 75,000 members —while the wives and kids of the other hundreds of thousands lived off the dotes and garbage refuse, literally, during the depths of depression.

MURRAY FEARS such a recession again. Once more his experts, the keen research staff down in his Washington headquarters, tell him that the steel business is falling off. And if you look closely you'll find a surplus of steel here and there. In the highest CIO circle there is growing concern over the coming recession. There's less construction. There will be less plant expansion for war or peace. There may be unemployment in a year or so—even inside steel.

To meet this head-on, Phil Murray wants the union shop—automatic union membership of a million steel workers, automatic payment of dues to bolster treasuries, automatic strength — insurange against members' dropping away in discouraging days. From this guaranteed strength which guaranteed membership will bring, there will spring guaranteed power in dealing with the companies when they must slash off workers and when they ask for pay cuts to meet cuts in orders when peace breaks out.

All of which leads us to the second revealing three-minute speech. This one was made in the White House some 10 days ago by "Big Steel" leader Benjamin Fairless. As long as he is chairman of the board of U. S. Steel, he warned Mr. Truman's troubleshooters, there will be no union shop in his plants. That should carry the controversy through four or five years, at which time, Mr. Fairless says he'll be ready to retire.

This is management's view. It, too, wants room to maneuver in any depression without consulting the steel union on its problems. Nor is this limited to steel, on which the nation's spotlights are concentrated.

ALL THROUGH industry there is now the determination to fight the union shop—and to charge publicly that the coalition of Mr. Truman and the CIO is trying to force on them the policy of sharing management rights with labor. There is, for example, no more incisively outspoken reflection of management's sentiments than from Lem Boulware, the energetic vice president of General Electric. The other day he cut loose at the government and, with characteristic bluntness, he summed up the position of all businessmen.

He had just received a telegram from chief Federal mediator Cy Ching informing him that a strike threatened the GE aircraft gas turbine plant in Lockland, Ohio, "The Jet Center of the World." Ching wanted him to come to Washington for a conference.

He said he'd go, but charged that there was, in effect, a political deal between the unions and the government for seizure of the plant if GE refused to yield a union shop. And he planned to refuse to grant it.

These are the facts of industrial life. You have the fears on both sides. Now how about a nice sane labor-mangement conference in Washington to work it all out—without benefit of government, only labor and management—before real bitterness and a depression set in?

From Grass Roots

By Hal Boyle

KANSAS CITY, MO.

LEAVES FROM a Midwest travel diary:

Politics has replaced corn and wheat as the major crop for 1952 in the great American Middle West.

Out here where the grass roots grow a little deeper the controversy is particularly keen, because a number of the top presidential candidates spring from these heart states of the nation.

No political contest in a generation has stirred such interest in all classes, including the lady of the house as well as the man about the place. And in this down-to-earth country there is little of the wait-and-see attitude. The widow and the window washer, the bum, the banker and the bakery truck driver—each seems already to have stoutly made up his mind how he's going to vote. And, of course, so have the farmers.

Here is a sampling of comments:

A businessman—"I am for Taft and so are most businessmen I know. Sure, we made a lot of money under the Democrats. But under Taft maybe we will get to keep some of it."

A newspaper publisher—"People are tired of the same old faces, the young people in particular. That's why Eisenhower is so popular."

A housewife—"I hope I get to vote for Gov. Warren. Anybody who can raise as nice a family as he has must be a good man."

A farmer—"We know where Taft stands. He's got more common sense than the rest of them put together."

A bar owner—"That Kefauver has more appeal than the politicians realize. But last year I made $400 betting on the horses and this year I can't even place a bet because of him. Do you think I'm going to vote for Kefauver?"

A veteran political reporter—"Don't let anyone kid you that Truman really wants to quit. He's acting more like a candidate than he ever did."

THERE IS AN AIR of general prosperity in the Midwest. Most everyone seems to be eating pretty high on the hog these days. People who used to complain about the weather now spend more time criticizing the income tax.

"Even the winos are buying shots of whisky now," said a barkeeper. And a businessman added:

Yes, times are still pretty good. The trouble is men don't seem to want to put out much effort anymore. Too many work a week, then take a week off to rest up."

—:—

THE TOWNS devastated by the Missouri and Kaw River floods in 1951 have made an astonishing recovery. They have been "neated up" again by the application of courage, fresh paint, and elbow grease.

Typical is Manhattan, Kan., whose business district was inundated last summer. In one restaurant where I stopped the lady proprietor said:

"You'd have drowned if you'd been sitting there a year ago. The water was over seven feet deep in here. But we cleaned out the place, and opened up again as soon as we could. Now we're doing better than ever."

—:—

THE SQUARE DANCE revival that swept America a few years ago is still going strong. It has created a new sideline occupation—"square dance calling."

One bank employe makes $25 a night or more calling the intricate turns at community dances. The dances are particularly popular with wives.

"My husband likes them," said one, "and they're the first thing to come along in years that would keep him on his feet after dark."

Junior Club Leader, Pianist Honored

Two Marion Musicians Selected By State Group

MRS. RALPH E. MILLS

MISS SALLY SCHNEIDER

—:—

Two Marion musicians were honored recently by Ohio Federation of Music Club officers at the recent junior music clubs festival for the state held by the federation at the Dana School of Music at Youngstown College, Youngstown. A young pianist was given the distinction of becoming the first special junior member of the federation's Life and Special Members Department, and a state office was bestowed on a local youth club leader.

Mrs. Ralph E. Mills was appointed state counselor of junior music clubs by Mrs. Harry A. Combs of Columbus, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs president.

Miss Sally Schneider, 15, was named as the first special junior member of the federation. This recognition was made public by Mrs. David W. Evans of Marion, state chairman of the Life and Special Members Club. At the festival, she won a rating of "superior" in piano presentation.

10 Years of Study

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Schneider of 407 Forest St., she has studied piano with Mrs. Harry T. Williams of Marion since the age of 5. She is a member of Phi of Ohio Chapter of Pi Mu, national music society. Her first public appearance was at the age of 5 at the state festival held that year in Columbus. Since that time, she has taken part in the festival annually, winning high ratings. This year was the second time she has won the "superior" grade in the Very Difficult class.

She became a member of the Juvenile Lecture-Recital Club 10 years ago under counselorship of Mrs. Mills, now the state counselor. After serving as the scrapbook chairman for the children's club for a time, she became president. In 1950, she was accepted as the youngest member of the Junior Lecture-Recital Club, now the Youth Lecture-Recital Club. She has appeared on the Lecture-Recital Club's programs and on district radio programs.

A ninth grade pupil at Vernon Heights Junior High School, she is a school pianist, a member of the school chorus, and arranges music for a girls' quartet which she directs and presents on school programs. She has been a member of the Vernonian staff, and is interested in promoting the athletic activities of the school with original posters. Her hobby is sewing. She is an assistant pianist at First EUB Church and is the youngest member of the Marion Civic Chorus in "The Messiah" each year.

Succeeds Another Marionite

Mrs. Mills, no newcomer to state music circles, is serving as the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs' chairman of religious education to which position she was appointed previously. In her new office she succeeds another Marion woman, Mrs. Harry J. Mautz, who had been junior clubs counselor five years. For some time she served as counselor of the Junior Musicians of the Marion Lecture-Recital Club, known formerly as the Youth Group of the Lecture-Recital Club.

In common with Miss Schneider, her interest in music began in childhood when she became a pupil of Miss Emma B. Wehrle of Marion. As a member of the Junior Lecture-Recital Club, she served in the presidency of that group in 1935 and 1936. In September, 1941, she was named by the Lecture-Recital Club as counselor of the Juvenile Lecture-Club and served in that capacity continuously to the present. For the last 11 years, she has been a member of the Lecture-Recital Club executive board.

She is active also in the Marion Community Concert Association, and she is accompanist for the Emanuel Lutheran Church Junior Choir. The Marion' Altrusa Club of which she is a member is another of her interests, and she is employed in the local offices of the Ohio State Employment Service. She is a daughter of Mrs. Charles M. Alheit of 261 Chestnut St. and of the late Mr. Alheit. She makes her home at the Chestnut St. address.

84-Year-Old Man Injured In Auto Crash

An 84-year-old driver was injured in one of four traffic accidents reported today by city police.

Henry Hoffman of 243 Pearl St. suffered a chest injury when the car he was driving and a truck driven by Loren H. Howard, 36, of near Lucasville, O., collided at 5:14 p.m. Wednesday. The collision occurred at the intersection of E. Center and State Sts.

Hoffman was taken to City Hospital where he was treated and released. The right side of the car was damaged and the front of the truck.

A car owned by Willard Miller, 31, of 395 Milburn Ave. was struck by a hit-skip car as it was parked in front of Miller's home sometime Wednesday night. The right side of the Miller car was damaged.

At 1:37 p.m. Wednesday cars driven by Edward Flesher, 19, of 968 Congress St. and Mrs. Beatrice Stevenson of 296 Senate St. collided on W. Center St. in front of the Kresge store. The right rear of the Flesher car was damaged and the left front of the Stevenson car.

A car driven by Mrs. Ruth C. Cottrell of 656 Oak St. and a truck driven by Alva Ernest Abranis, 35, of 356 Waterloo St. collided at the intersection of Main and Center Sts. at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday. The left front of the car was damaged.

Koje Report

less the prisoners create them."

Aside from its impact on truce negotiations at Panmunjom and its propaganda value to the Communists, the Koje incident brought up questions of responsibility and procedure under international agreements for the handling of war prisoners.

Treaty Modernized

In 1949, a new international convention on prisoners of war, to modernize a 1929 treaty, was agreed upon at Geneva. The United States signed the convention and President Truman sent it to the Senate for ratification. But the Senate so far has failed to ratify. However, the Communist governments of Red China and North Korea are not signatories to the treaty.

Although American ratification had not been completed, the United States government made known at the outbreak of the Korean war that it would abide by terms of the Geneva conventions.

By far the greater part of these is devoted to setting forth the rights of prisoners of war. Control of prisoners, however, appears to be covered only under a general provision that "prisoners of war shall be subject to the laws, regulations, and orders in force in the armies of the detaining power" and specification that regulations be published in the language the prisoners understand. Thus, one question seems to be what regulations existed at Koje, as prescribed by the local command.

Unless the Far East Command can prove that each prisoner in the Koje compound plotted the seizure of Dodd and participated personally in the acts that followed his seizure, no collective disciplinary action against the inmates seems probable. The Geneva agreements state that "collective punishment for individual acts is also forbidden."

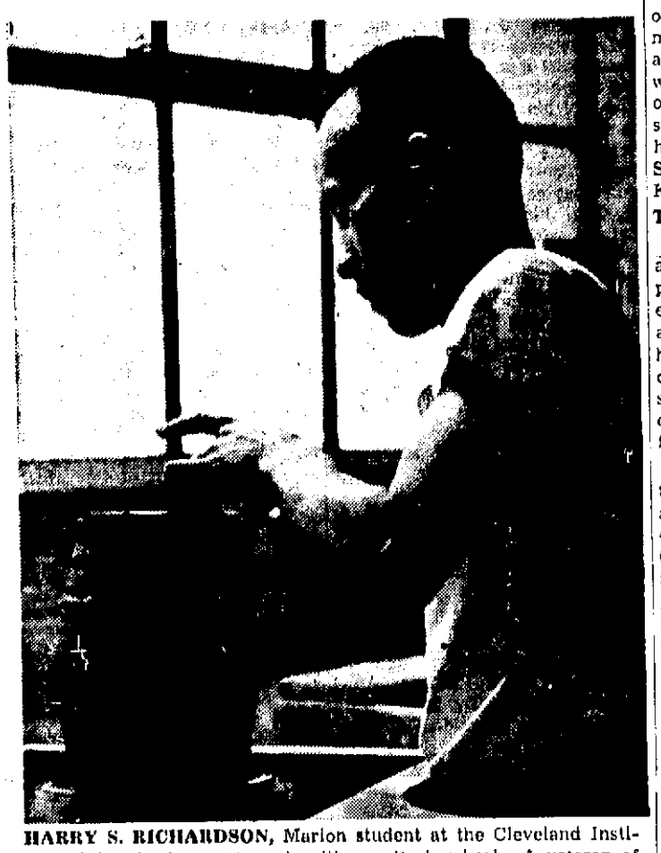
Marion Art Student To Teach at Institute



HARRY S. RICHARDSON, Marion student at the Cleveland Institute of Art, is shown at work with a potter's wheel. A veteran of World War II who first won art recognition for pencil drawings made while serving on Okinawa, Richardson is studying sculpture and ceramics at the Institute. He is to teach a class in ceramics there this summer.

A lifelong ambition is being realized by Harry S. Richardson, former Marion resident, who is now enrolled in the Cleveland Institute of Art, where he is majoring in sculpture and ceramics.

He will teach a course in ceramics this summer at the institute.

At present Richardson is working on a stone carving to be entered for the annual Gund Scholarship for travel and education. Competing are outstanding students chosen from the senior classes and assigned a problem in their major course. A jury composed of the faculty decides the most outstanding student through their Gund assignment and their work of that year will be set up in designated places in the Cleveland Institute of Art auditorium.

For his entry the Marion student is working on a wooly rhinoceros, an animal that roamed Northern Europe in the ice age. When he began the carving the stone weighed more than 850 pounds. When completed it will probably weight 400 pounds. Deadline for completing the work is this month.

Seven Carvings

In sculpture so far this year, Richardson has completed three wood and three stone carvings. His entry in the Gund scholarship is his fourth work in stone. For wood carvings he chooses birds as subjects as they seem best fitted to the size and dimensions of the woods he has been able to procure. For his stone carving he selects animals such as the wart hog of North Africa, the monarch, now extinct, a pre-historic buffalo of the ice age. He also has done a carving in stone of St. Peter, a monumental, saintly looking person, half seated and holding the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven in one hand.

Richardson prefers to use animals as subjects for carving and chooses the more powerful ones. By doing so he is able to pick out their most outstanding characteristics and emphasize them with exaggerated forms and lines. Carving stone, he believes is more of a challenge than other forms of sculpture, not only because it takes a great deal more effort but also because of its limitations in designing.

Now in his second year in ceramics, Richardson has been studying with Charles Mosgo, of the Institute's staff, nationally famous for his hand thrown pottery. Mosgo is making a trip to Europe this summer and Richardson has been selected to teach his regular six-week summer session at the institute.

Experiments With Glaze

Richardson's use of glazed lines and masses on a glazed piece has created a great deal of interest at the Institute and in shows. The idea has been tried many times without success as the glazes run together and the lines and decorations are lost. After working a for a year he finally perfected his method. He got his idea from a show at the school of pottery by the famous English potter, Bernard Leach. He substituted his own glazes and perfected a means of applying glaze, and this with a good firing has worked out to his satisfaction.

Several pieces with this method of decoration won honorable mention in the annual May Show at the Cleveland Museum of Art, where Richardson had eight pieces of ceramics and one piece of stone sculpture. He also has exhibited at the Ceramic National Shows in Syracuse, N. Y., Wichita, Kas. and Atlanta, Ga.

To Live In Philippines

With his wife, Ednasion, Richardson plans to go to the Philippine Islands next fall where he expects to work in the field of architectural sculpture and perhaps ceramics. He plans to carry on his work in ceramics and sculpture in his spare time in order to leave a number of pieces for use in future shows.

Richardson won recognition in the field of art while serving as a technician fifth grade with the 473rd Signal Heavy Construction Co. at Kadena Air Base on Okinawa. He was awarded third prize for his pencil drawings entitled "Performance" entered in the Philrykom art contest held at Manila.

While yet in grade school his interests were being devoted to the study of practice of art and wood craft. At Harding High School where he was graduated in 1946, he was a track star, a three-letter man in tumbling exhibitions, a members of the Hi-Y, the Art Club, and the Color Daubers. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Richardson of 184 Hughes Ave.

ALPENA, Mich. (UP)—An unprecedented father-and-son team turned up at the assault trial of Bernard Kwiatkowski. Ervin Gehrke and his son, Harold, served as jury members.

Govt. Men See Early End To Oil Strike

WSB Decision To Allow 15-Cent Boost Liked by Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government labor officials today predicted an early end to the 15-day nationwide oil strike already is affecting the country's tourist trade and air service both here and abroad.

The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) decision Wednesday to allow up to 15 cents an hour in wage increases to 90,000 striking oil workers brought prompt and favorable response from the unions involved.

The proposed ceiling boost earlier had been agreed to by part of the strike-bound industry

B. J. Schafer, vice president of the CIO Oil Workers International, issued a statement in Denver Wednesday night saying the CIO policy committee, and the coordinating committee for the CIO-Independent-AFL unions coalition, had reluctantly approved a proposed settlement on the basis of the 15-cent-an-hour increase, plus shift differentials of six and 12 cents retroactive pay equal to the full amount allowable under WSB regulations.

The WSB refused blanket approval for the shift differentials, but said they would be considered on their merits.

Patrol Lists 1 Accident, 9 Arrests

A minor accident Tuesday and nine traffic arrests, seven on charges of speeding, were reported by the state highway patrol.

A car driven by Harry G. Roush, 19, of 352 Milburn Ave. struck the rear of a car driven by Mrs. Frances Gear of 523 Decatur St. as both were driving west on County Road 175, half a mile east of Marion, at 4:15 p.m. Both cars were damaged sightly. No one was injured.

Drivers charged with speeding Tuesday with locations of arrests and case dispositions, were Emmit O. Stephenson, 31, Columbus, Route 23, in court May 16: Herbert S. Levy, 46, Columbus, Route 23, $15 and costs; Louis C. Roettig, 41, Columbus, Route 42, in court Wednesday; Charles McClellan, 38, Lima, Route 30-N, $25 and costs; William E. Dinsmore, 37, Columbus, Route 23, $20 and costs; Charles E. Ponkey, 44, Columbus, Route 23, $10 and costs; David L. Liebling, 44, Columbus, Route 23, $10 and costs.

John H. Bender, 69, of 156 S. Main St. was charged with passing without the assured clear distance on Route 30-S. He was cited to appear in Marion Municipal Court May 17.

Bernard Little, 27, of Findlay was fined $15 and costs in Municipal Court following his arrest on Route 23 on a charge of crossing over the yellow line.

early date. Until conclusion of the investigation it is inappropriate for me to make public statements concerning it."

Presumably Clark did not consider his later public disavowal of the Koje agreement as a public statement concerning the investigation.

The Pentagon in Washington has asked Clark to supply a detailed report quickly. High defense officials had conferred with the Far Eastern commander prior to his statements today.

Both Dodd and Colson flew back to Korea last night. Both apparently resumed their duties while prepared to testify at a military board of inquiry.

New Steel Strike Looms

Union Leaders OK Walkout Threat

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The CIO - United Steelworkers, their threat to launch a new nationwide steel strike already a matter of record, today appeared ready to approve other demands: a union shop, repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, a national daily labor newspaper.

Steelworker President Philip Murray, who is also head of the CIO, held the union's OK to call a walkout of 650,000 steelworkers if the union cannot win—promptly—a satisfactory wage increase.

The 2,500 delegates to the sixth (biennial) constitutional convention gave spontaneous and unanimous approval of the strike threat Wednesday.

Many retail coal companies employ engineers to show customers how to operate their furnaces and boilers most efficiently.

Rough Track No Obstacle, Deputy Noses Out Pony

Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Severns ran a race with a mare pony this morning—and he won.

It all started when the sheriff's office got a telephone call from C. W. Fredericks who has a farm out on Hillman-Ford Road northwest of Marion. He said there was a pony out on his land. She had been around since Monday and he couldn't find the owner.

Without even putting on his track shoes, Deputy Severns drove out to investigate.

He saw the pony and the pony saw him. She started to run, with Severns in hot pursuit. Over fences and across plowed fields they went.

Finally, the panting pony gave up and Severns led her back to a stall in the Fredericks barn.

"I'm ready to die. Will somebody call the sheriff's office for their pony," he said later. The owner can get her by showing proof of ownership.

Reds Accuse U.N. of 'Every Crime in Book'

MUNSAN, KOREA (AP)—Red truce negotiators today accused the Allies "of every crime in the books," including use of prisoners of war for atomic bomb experiments.

The United Nations command termed the charges "transparently ridiculous."

The U.N. command communique said the Reds made "an all-inclusive propaganda attack which charged the U. N. command, among other things, with using prisoners for experiments 'with poison gas, germ weapons and atomic bombs'."

Bags 2 Reds To Become 15th Jet Ace

SEOUL, KOREA (AP) — An American Sabre Jet pilot today turned a Red MIG-15 into "a ball of flame" and shot down another in a screaming 50-mile chase at tree-top level to become America's 15th jet ace.

One other Red plane was destroyed in the fight over northwest Korea in which Lt. James H. Kasler of Indianapolis shot down his fourth and fifth Communist planes, the Fifth Air Force said.

Kasler said the first plane was "a ball of flame as he crashed just on this side" of the Yalu River separating Korea from Manchuria.

Atomic Sub's Keel Will Be Laid Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The keel of this nation's first atomic-powered submarine will be laid next month.

The Navy said the work on the history-making vessel will be done at the Electric Boat Co. plant at Groton, Conn.

The actual starting date will be made known soon, the announcement said.

The atomic sub is to be named "Nautilus" after the fictional craft described by Jules Verne in 1869 in the novel, "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea."

The first experimental submersible, of the inventor Robert Fulton, carried the same name in 1801.

United Nations command and the U. S.

The flags were Red banners flying over some of the 17 barbed wire stockades holding 79,000 prisoners of war. The demands were those made for the release of a former camp commander, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd. Brig. Gen. Charles E. Colson was removed as commandant when he agreed to some of them. His promises were disavowed by the U. N. command today.

"This is one of the toughest jobs in the Army, right here," Boatner said.

He is the 14th officer to hold the job in 16 months.

"One of my big jobs," the stocky general said, "is to make certain the POWs know the Geneva Convention. And I've got to make sure they know it from me, not from someone out there." He pointed toward the stockades, ruled by shrewd, thoroughly indoctrinated Communists.

"We are going to give them every right they have according to the Geneva Convention," Boatner said. "We're going to give them every latitude, but"—and he tapped a copy of the Geneva Convention on his desk—"this is the Bible.

"We have given them more, in my opinion, than required by the Geneva Convention."

He said the prisoners would have to learn who is boss. But he would take no precipitate action on this troubled island, where two riots in recent months cost 81 lives, one of them an American.

McCarthy

volunteering testimony which might be regarded as helpful to Sen McCarthy."

Wideman added: "I am sickened by the attempts being made at this hearing to assassinate a senator's character and political career by innuendo and foul play."

Gillette told a reporter he hopes to wind up the inquiry before Congress adjourns this summer.

Wideman told the subcommittee he had tried to get its counsel to call him as a witness and that failure to do so had "worked tremendous hardship" on him

Gillette asked if he had ever tried to get in touch with him or any of the other senators on the subcommittee about his problem. Wideman conceded he had not.

He said that up until last night he felt he could get the desired results from the committee counsel, John P. Moore.

Telephoned McCarthy

Wideman said he telephoned McCarthy from Columbus shortly after he was served a subpoena.

He told McCarthy he said, that he was scheduled to make a speech Tuesday and asked McCarthy if he thought it would be possible to obtain a postponement of his appearance as a witness.

McCarthy advised him to be on hand promptly as directed by the subpoena, Wideman said.

"Did you discuss anything in regard to your testimony?" asked Sen. Hennings (D-Mo).

"No, sir." Wideman replied.

"Nothing whatsoever?" asked Hennings.

Wideman said nothing except that McCarthy asked if he knew who was being subpoenaed. He said the senator also asked if Robert Byers, Sr., was coming to Washington.

Wideman said he told McCarthy that he did not believe Byers was free to answer a subpoena. He said he told McCarthy Byers had been placed in the Ohio State Hospital for the criminally insane for 30 days observation.

Asks About Letter

Hennings asked if a letter McCarthy had written the subcommittee about Byers was not based on information that Wideman had given him.

Wideman said he didn't know if McCarthy had the information before that or not.

McCarthy has contended that the subcommittee intended to call Byers as its star witness against him. The subcommittee has denied it.

In reply to questions by Sen. Hennings, Wideman said he telephoned the letter he was planning to send to Gillette.

Wideman testified McCarthy is the only attorney he knows in Washington and that he wanted the senator's legal opinion as to whether there was "anything improper in what I intended to do."

Hennings: "and he advised you the letter was not in any wise likely to put you in legal difficulties?"

Wideman: "That is correct."

The witness added that McCarthy told him "the language was a little harsh and might be modified." Wideman said, however, that he ignored McCarthy's advice on that point and sent the letter as he had drafted it.

In testimony at the hearing Wednesday Carl G. Strandlund, who headed Lustron's ill-starred venture into the prefabrication housing field, and Lorenzo Semple former Lustron vice president, testified they thought a pamphlet McCarthy had written for them was worth $10,000.

Semple said Strandlund and McCarthy agreed on the purchase price, but that he worked out the details. The contract guaranteed McCarthy a royalty of 10 cents a copy on an assumed original distribution of 100,000 copies of the pamphlet.

Newark Woman Found Guilty Of Slaying Husband

NEWARK, O. (AP)—Mrs. Bernice Butler, 36, was convicted of first degree manslaughter early today in the fatal shooting of her husband in their Newark trailer home last March 8.

A Licking County common pleas jury deliberated nearly 10 hours before reaching a verdict at 12 25 a.m. Mrs. Butler was charged with second-degree murder in the death of her husband, Wilbur Butler Sr.

Mary Ann Everly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Everly of 295 Leader St., entered Children's Hospital at Columbus Wednesday where she will undergo surgery Friday. Mary Ann, a pupil of the Fourth Grade at St. Mary Parochial School, is undergoing treatment following polio. She expects to be in the hospital a week.

LOWLY SPUD HITS A NEW HIGH. Although potatoes haven't reached the filet mignon price bracket as yet, the present cost of the once-lowly spud is prompting a wave of buyer-resistance everywhere. Description brown eyebrows. He was extremely muscular, but did no hard labor for either recreation or employment. He needed a shave at the time of his death. He had heavy jowls, his four teeth which survived the blast were all in bad condition. He possibly wore dentures. He had a large stomach, and normal-sized ears.

Police Record Likely

Police officers think he may have a police record and are today working on that assumption.

One police officer said he may have been a wrestler. He said the remaining portions of his arms and muscles "as large as footballs." Measurements of his leg and arm bones indicate he was short. His hands, which survived the blast, were soft and did not have the slightest trace of callouses, officers report.

Police have also found a fragment of a laundry mark on his bloody and shredded undershorts. This is being processed in the laboratory at the London Prison Farm today to try to find out where it came from.

Capt. Ralph Murphy, head of the Toledo police homicide department, said today that he has spent a considerable amount of time checking into the theory that the murdered man may have come from Toledo and been driven to the lonely wooded area in the stolen car which was later fired. He reports he has been able to turn up no evidence that would indicate the victim came from Toledo. He said the finding of the blood in the car has added considerably to the case as far as Toledo police are concerned.

Scientific detectives at the London Prison Farm mobile crime lab set off charges of various sorts in the woods where the victime was found in an attempt to find how much powder was used to destroy the man's body. They did not report the results of their experiments.

Racket Link Suspected

Police officers agree the man may have come from some city in northwestern Ohio. They think he may have been in some sort of a criminal racket, he may be linked with a car theft ring or he may have been involved in a labor dispute.

Indications that he may have been killed by someone in a car theft ring are borne out by the thorough method in which the marks of identification were removed from the auto before it was fired.

All the obvious marks were removed as well as five of six secret numbers which are hidden about the car's frame and motor. They were burned off with an acetelyne torch.

Only police officers and car thieves know where all the secret numbers are hidden. State highway patrol officers were able to find one hidden secret number which revealed the car's identity.

Plaster Casts Made

Plaster casts have been made of all footprints and tire tracks found in the woods where the murder took place. They will be studied and those which are not evidence will be eliminated.

Wyandot County sheriff's deputies under Sheriff Ben Stansberry have combed the woods looking for clues which the killer may have overlooked.

Taft Gains 15 More Votes In West Va.

Gives Him Total Of 364 Compared With Ike's 304

By The Associated Press

The Taft-Eisenhower duel for Republican presidential nominating votes tilted toward the Ohio senator today, with delegate-seating contests looming as a possibly decisive factor.

Sen Robert Taft apparently picked up 15 more delegate votes in Tuesday's West Virginia primary. The other one apparently went to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Thus The Associated Press tally of delegate strength now shows. Taft 364, Eisenhower 304. The tabulation is based on known and avowed alignments of delegates.

Nomination requires 604 votes and, in a close fight at the GOP convention in Chicago, a few votes—say 75—could mean the difference between nomination and also-ran.

75 Votes Disputed

All or part of delegations with 75 votes are involved in disputes over rights to be seated at the July 7 convention Delegates favoring both Taft and Eisenhower have been chosen in Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi. Another scrap over Texas' 38 votes comes to a head at a state convention May 27.

It has been 40 years since delegate contests figured prominently in a national convention. Rules call for this procedure: the national committee receives the dispute. Its decision can be appealed to the convention credentials committee whose report could be challenged by the convention itself.

The West Virginia results, which also showed Taft an easy winner over former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota in preferential voting, was hailed by Taft headquarters. Spokesmen, who claim Taft has 448 delegates to Eisenhower's 280, said the Ohioan is within range of first-ballot nomination.

Democratic Developments

Among Democrats, interest was divided between today's convention arrangements committee meeting at Chicago and tomorrow's primary in Oregon.

Party leaders huddling at Chicago over the July 21 convention will name a chairman and keynote speaker, for the meeting and a committee to begin drafting a party platform.

Oregon voters, who name 18 Republican and 12 Democratic delegates as well as express presidential preferences, heard from three nominee - candidates and stand-ins for Eisenhower.

The State Highway Patrol reported Shannon apparently lost control of his car as he attempted to make a turn. The youths were enroute home from a fraternity party, the patrol said.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market found the line of least resistance to be downward again today. Losses in the leaders ranged from fractions to more than a point with a few of the higher-priced issues showing more extensive declines.

Despite the indicated break in the strike of 90,000 oil workers, Wall Street was inclined to give greater weight to the renewed threat of a steel industry walkout. As a result, would-be investors were inclinqd to lower bids pending evidence that the market had reached solid footing.

LINER ON HER TRIAL RUN. The new super-liner, the United States, steams down the James River near Newport News, Va. on her trial run. The $75,000,000 ship is carrying a full crew of 1,200, plus several hundred technicians and passengers. The liner is comparable to the British sea queens, the Mary and Elizabeth, and is expected to better their speed marks. She will make her maiden voyage to England on July 3, and will carry 2,000 passengers.

New Luxury Liner Bids For Speed Record

S.S. United States Expected To Crack Queen Mary's Mark

ABOARD THE S. S. UNITED STATES (AP)—The S. S. United States, America's bid for supremacy in the luxury liner class, sliced through the Atlantic today in quest of a speed record.

Britain's Queen Mary, which averaged 31 knots-plus on a 1938 trans-Atlantic run, holds the blue ribbon emblematic of speed supremacy at sea.

The United States built up to 30 knots without effort Wednesday on the first day of her builders' run, and Vice Adm. E. L. Cochrane said the Queen Mary's speed will be bettered today.

During the trial speed run, ship-to-shore telephone circuits are being blacked out because they interfere with electronic devices used to determine the ship's speed.

Cochrane, U. S. maritime administrator said the ship's actual speed will be kept secret for security reasons: if the Queen Mary's record is broken this fact will be announced, but the actual speed will not be published because the ship may be converted into a troopship in case of war.

"We don't want an enemy to know her speed capability as the lives of 14,000 men would be involved," Cochrane said. He estimated the ship could be converted in less than 24 hours.

The 52,000-ton, 72-million-dollar United States is airconditioned throughout—a feature designed to permit carrying a maximum number of troops comfortably — and has an elaborate fireproofing system.

It will be operated by the U.S. Lines in trans-Atlantic service. President John M. Franklin of the line said the ship's accommodations for tourist class passengers "are the best in the North Atlantic service."

The ship has been the center of recent controversy in Washington because of a subsidy contract under which the government pledged payment of about 45 million dollars towards the construction costs. Some congressmen and other officials contended this was too much.

But Wednesday, two key Democratic members of the House merchant marine committee—Rep. Bonner of North Carolina and Rep. Shelley of California—said they were in favor of immediate construction of a sister ship as a vital national defense measure.

WSWS Holds Program At Calvary EUB Church

"Christ Calls Through Our Homes" was the theme for the program and meeting when the WSWS of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church met recently at the church.

A meditation was given by Mrs. Irwin Jobe and prayer by Mrs. H. J. Klinefelter. Highlighting the program was a pantomime of scenes depicting activities in the home, with Miss Edith Burggraff as reader, and Mrs. Viola Rinnert and Mrs. Carol Jobe, singers. The first scene was "Mother Praying By Bedside of Infant," by Mrs. Richard Slack. The others were "Mother Reading To Children"; "Mother Getting Children Ready for Church and Sunday School"; "Pastor Visiting Home"; "Family Worship"; "Family Sending Box for Overseas relief". Mrs. R. W. Faulkner and children, Robert, Donald, Dean and Shirley, were the participants, with the Rev. Faulkner taking the part of the pastor.

It was announced two memorials have been presented to the society in memory of H. W. Zachman, one for the missionaries in Africa and one for missionaries in Brazil. Mrs. Dwight Goff, spiritual life secretary, urged all members to read their Bibles, designating various passages for the next month, and Miss Marie Stull, social relations secretary, reported on the activities of her committees.

Miss Vera Stull, missionary education secretary, stressed the reading of "Red Bird Notes," a magazine telling of missionary work the church is doing in Kentucky. Announcement was made that dresses for children of a leper colony are to be made by the members.

Hostess committee for the day was composed of Mrs. Jobe, chairman, Mrs. J. Y. Apt, Miss Hazel Barringer, Miss Edith Burgraff, Mrs. Edith Brading and Miss Stella Burgraff. The next meeting will be June 10.

Want Somewhere To Go?

Motorists are always looking for places to visit in spring and summer. Here is one of a series of brief articles on such places not far from Marion.

By EMORY ANDERSON

Catholic Shrine at Carey

May is the month of pilgrimages to the Shrine of Our Lady of Consolation at Carey.

Many Catholics, and many of other faiths will join in the pilgrimages during May, marking the founding of the Carey Shrine.

In 1868 the first Catholic Church was built in Carey. The church was first dedicated to St. Edward but in 1875 the church was rededicated to St. Mary, the mother of Jesus.

A small statue of Our Mother of Consolation, after whom the Church was named, was sent from Luxemberg, Germany, along with other holy relics.

On May 24, 1875, the first pilgrimage was made from Berwick to Carey, a distance of seven miles, by about 1,000 persons. The pilgrims sang hymns and chanted prayers, and carried the image.

Every year since then, the same procession has been made, only on the streets of Carey. The image is carried on a float.

In 1912 the shrine came under the jurisdiction of the Friars Minor Conventual and has been cared for by them ever since.

Many pilgrims to the shrine are cured of various afflictions and some leave crutches and other items as well as testimony to prove the help of the shrine.

Pilgrimages are made on Sunday mornings during May and again during August.

Many who have faith and confidence in the Mother of God go to the shrine and many believe spiritual and physical ills will be cured.

The church at Carey is large and impressive with many beautifully colored windows and statues. There is the Our Lady of Carey Seminary in which friars are trained for their work in the church.

Sokolsky

at Hiroshima, by order of President Truman, Japan was a starving nation because it had been cut off from its principal areas of supply.

The Russians have several trump cards to play in this situation, which either the United States will meet or, in less time than one can believe possible, Japan must fall into the arms of Joe Stalin. This is today a frightening reality which must be recognized.

First, Soviet Russia can open Manchuria to Japan, which would mean a steady supply of soy bean, wheat, sorghum, coal, industrial clays, etc.

Secondly, Soviet Russia and Soviet China can purchase, by a barter system, as much consumers' goods, electrical equipment, textile and other machinery as Japan can produce, which would save Japan's industries while opening up a traditional market for which Japan has fought since 1894.

Thirdly, the Russians can play off the Japanese against the British in Soviet China, throwing trade to one or another, thus teasing each into greater concessions, particularly anti-American concessions. For example, if Soviet Russia showed Japan preferences, the anxieties of the British concerning the Hongkong trade would increase.

THIS IS NO PROBLEM to leave to the mysticism of the State Department. It would be foolhardy to believe that Japan will do nothing to obtain rice, soy beans, coal, iron ore and similar necessities. It is foolhardy to believe that any government, particularly a pro-American one, can survive in Japan if the standard of life recedes from austerity to starvation. Japan's dilemma requires immediate solution by the United States.

JUST A MISUNDERSTANDING

PORTLAND, Ind. (UP)—When police stopped a car for leaving a service station without paying the bill, no one was more surprised than the motorist. The driver pointed to his companion and said, "I thought you paid it." The equally surprised passenger answered, "I thought you paid it." The men immediately paid the $3.10 and were released.

Memorial Day Porch Snacks

CORN MEAL COCONUT COOKIES . . . And Oatmeal Top Hats

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here are two new cookie recipes for Memorial Day gatherings. Served with strawberry-garnished lemonade they'll make an attractive snack for porch or indoor eating. One of the recipes combines corn meal and coconut to give interesting flavor and texture. A recent survey turned up the fact that using corn meal in cookies is near the top of favorite home uses for this good product.

CORN MEAL COCONUT COOKIES

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 1 cup enriched corn meal, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups firmly-packed brown sugar, 1 cup shortening (soft), 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup milk, 1 cup coconut.

Method: Into mixing bowl sift flour, corn meal, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. Add remaining ingredients except coconut. Stir until ingredients are well blended, about 2 minutes. Fold in coconut, save part of coconut to sprinkle over top of cookies before baking. Drop by teaspoons about 1 inch apart on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven 12 to 15 minutes or until browned. Makes about 54 cookies.

OATMEAL TOP HATS

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted flour, ¾ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon mace, ¾ cup shortening (soft), 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup uncooked quick rolled oats, ¾ cup finely chopped walnut or pecan meats, 1 six-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 1 tablespoon water.

Method: Into mixing bowl sift flour, sugar, salt, and mace; add shortening, egg, and vanilla. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes, mix in rolled oats. Shape in small balls about ¾-inch in diameter. Roll in chopped nut meats; place about 1 inch apart on ungreased baking sheet and make indentation with thumb or teaspoon tip in center. Bake in moderate (275 F.) oven for 5 minutes. Press indentation in center again; bake 3 or 4 minutes longer or until a delicate brown. Meanwhile melt chocolate with water in saucepan over hit water; fill centers of cookies with chocolate. Makes about 48 cookies.

TREED CATS OUT OF LUCK

RICHMOND, Va. (UP)—If the family cat climbs a tree and won't come down, it wouldn't pay to call the Richmond fire department. The public safety director, Richard R. Foster, has instructed firemen to forget such calls. Getting a stray cat out of a tree costs the city $50 to $100 and anyway it's no business of the fire department, Foster said.

Local Chapter Of Engineers Elects Seidel

Succeeds Jack Weis As President Of Marion Group

R. D. Seidel was elected president of Marion Chapter, Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, at the annual meeting and election of officers Tuesday night in the Scioto Power Plant kitchen of the Ohio Edison Co., south of Marion.

Seidel succeeds Jack F. Weis, who has served as head of the professional engineers' organization during the last two years.

Other officers elected are: Francis W. Norris, vice president; Frank Klaus, secretary-treasurer; R. N. Rickets and H. D. Schoonover, directors at large; Don Cuthbert, trustee to the Ohio Society; and Charles Eliot, alternate trustee.

Hold Fish Fry

More than 50 members and guests attended a fish fry at the Scioto Power Plant preceding the meeting and election. Russell Butterworth was chairman of arrangements. He was assisted by Paul Rogers, Roy Clauer, Ray Semmler, and Walter Bishop.

Committee for the meeting program was Butterworth, chairman, Donald Wysong, Loy D. Rhoads, and Robert Wolpat.

Guests of club members who attended the meeting were John Koeppen, Herbert R. Krebs, Rivera Curren, Robert Vaughn, Harry Cary, Marshall Browne, Paul Rudolph, Richard Gast, and Ivan Johnson.

Rex Kilbourn, retiring trustee to the Ohio Society, spoke on the organization's membership campaign and announced that at the last meeting of Ohio trustees, two new student chapters were created, at Akron University and at Ohio Northern University in Ada. It was announced the annual convention of the Society of Professional Engineers will be held at Tulsa, Okla., June 5 to 7.

Marion Chapter will hold a ladies' night dinner at the Marion Country Club Tuesday, June 10. President-elect Seidel will entertain with a magic show. Merle V. Lashey will conduct a musical program, and a motion picture will be presented.

Newly-elected officers will be installed at the June 10 meeting. They will assume their duties July 1. First program of the 1952-53 schedule will be held in September.

3 From County To Attend Health Meet

Three members of the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association will represent the county at a two-day state meeting which convened today in Columbus.

Mrs. H. E. Ogle, secretary of the Marion County organization, and George Schertzer, a member of the board, were on hand for sessions today, being held in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, and Mrs. Walter Hane, president of the Marion County Association, will attend Friday.

Some 300 delegates from Ohio's 88 counties were expected to attend to hear talks and discussions by outstanding speakers on latest developments in tuberculosis control.

Retailers Of New Cars Are Disturbed

Too Many New Models on Used Car Lots, Dealers Say

By DAVID J. WILLKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Some of the nation's new car retailers are disturbed again about what they call mal-distribution of automobiles in "certain areas."

There is no disposition on the part of the dealers or their association, the National Automobile Dealers Association to suggest an overall shortage exists or is imminent. However, the association's industry relations committee last week heard complaints that "sellers other than franchised dealers have obtained new cars," in some areas.

"As a consequence," the NADA reported this week, "the new car market in these areas has been completely demoralized. Particularly is this true at this time in the Bridgeport, Conn., area, where used car dealers have obtained more new cars than franchised dealers have received.

"Arrangements have been made to bring this matter to the attention of the manufacturers."

What the manufacturers can do about the situation isn't clear. They have been encountering it for many years.

Sought Quick Profit

During the early postwar days used car dealers obtained new cars from individuals who bought them solely with the object of turning them over at a quick profit. With premium prices prevailing the used car dealers also were able to make a couple of hundred dollars or more on re-sales of new cars.

More recently new cars have reached the used car lots from new car dealers receiving more vehicles from the factories than they immediately could sell. That condition does prevail in some areas. The new car dealers are reluctant to accept a cut in their monthly quota of shipments from the factory for fear a sudden upsurge in demand will find them unable to meet orders.

Generally the new car dealer's mark up on new cars runs about 25 per cent. Thus, he doesn't necessarily have to lose much, if anything, if he chooses to wholesale surplus stock to used car dealers, cut prices to individuals or offer large allowances on trade-in transactions.

The trade-ins, of course, usually wind up on the used car lots.

Dealers and finance companies generally expect the lifting of credit restrictions to stimulate the new car market. Up until last week when the Federal Reserve Board removed the restrictions installment buying was based on the rule of one-third down and 18 months to complete payments.

No Big Change

Although the restrictions have been removed it now appears that generally new cars will be sold on a one-third down basis and 24 months in which to complete payments.

Some exception may be made in cases of what are regarded as "exceptionally good risks." For older cars, especially pre-war vehicles, as much as 40 per cent down and payment within 12 months may be required.

The Federal Reserve Board has indicated it plans to ask renewal of its consumer credit control powers in the new National Defense Act after next June 30. That would mean it could reimpose restrictions if car buying credit got out of hand.

Local Woman Fills Supreme Shrine Post

Mrs. Ray Williams Named to Committee By High Priestess

A Marion White Shrine member, Mrs. Ray Williams, has received a supreme Shrine appointment, being named to the supreme credentials committee. This was announced at a meeting of the local Shrine Monday night in the Masonic Temple.

The appointments were made by the supreme worthy high priestess, Mrs. Vivian Parrish of Murphysboro, Ill., at a supreme Shrine session held the first week in May in Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. Evelyn Stone, as worthy high priestess of the Marion Shrine, and Harold Morris as matchman of shepherds, received automatic appointments in the supreme Shrine, being named supreme maid of honor and supreme king's guard, respectively.

Mrs. Williams has held other supreme Shrine appointments in the past. Active in the White Shrine here many years, she served as worthy high priestess in 1934-35. She installed the Shrine officers this year. The supreme Shrine session next year will be held in Milwaukee, Wis.

Marion Shrine now is a part of District No. 6, other shrines in the district being Mt. Olive Shrine of Columbus, Delaware Shrine, and Galilean Shrine in Newark. At the next meeting, a reception will be held for the newly appointed district deputy, Mrs. Vesta Wynkoop of Delaware. The past high priestess will give the program at this meeting.

A Mother's Day program was given, in charge of Mrs. Eve Hunter, and included a poem by Mrs. Zoa Hill, vocal solo by Mrs. Dorothy Weiser, and tap dance numbers by Susie Brunner, Susie Hardin, Vicky Fogt, Alma Turner, Vicky Marie and Candy Sue Grossman, Patty Snow, Carol Carnes, Linda Vail, Judy Bish, Margaret Ann Romine, Marjorie Umbaugh, Patty Wood and Jean Ann Kocher.

Harding Sets Council For Next Year

Lowell Arnold Named President Of Student Group

As a result of an election last week, the following officers will serve next year: Lowell Arnold, president, Carol Sparks, vice president; Rosemary Baxter, secretary; and Murray Leeper, treasurer.

The council is composed of 18 students, representing the three classes in the school. Each class elects six representatives. Faculty sponsors, who were elected at a faculty meeting May 6, are Mrs. Barbara Willmeth Anthony Schiavo and Charles Myers.

James Larsen, retiring president, conducted the meeting and appointed committees to plan year-end activities. Next year's juniors will form the baccalaureate committee, with Mrs. Willmeth as advisor, and members who will be seniors next fall will make up the commencement committee, with Mr. Schiavo as advisor.

Ninth graders elected at their respective schools to serve on the Harding High School Student Council as sophomores next fall are Gary Ballinger and Sally Pask, State Street; Diana Jones and Hank Rinnert, Vernon Heights; Jim Alex and Sue Foreman, Edison. Junior members will be Anna Fairchild, Sherry Carris, Rosemary Baxter, Murray Leeper, Ted Simmons and Don Decker. Maglie Shades Reds, 8-3, For Giants Sixth Straight Win

Mound Staff Gives Team Jump In NL Flag Chase

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sal (The Barber) Maglie is shaving National League hitters so close the boys are objecting to the lather.

Cincinnati did its best to upset the New York Giants ace Wednesday with repeated demands to see the ball. The intimation was that Maglie might be sneaking in a "spitter." The umps could find nothing wrong.

Maglie was so upset he coned off the Reds with six hits, 8-3, for his sixth straight victory. Unbeaten in 1952, the 34-year-old righthander is off to a flying start toward another big year, like his 23-6 of last season.

With the Maglie-Larry Jansen-Jim Hearn chulning the opposition, the champion Giants are on a five-game wln spree. They have won 16 of their last 18 to open up a two-game lead on the runnerup Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bobby Thomson, the golden boy of the '51 season, got the Giants off fast with a first-inning triple and a steal of home. Home runs by Willie Mays and Wes Westrum opened up enough of a lead for the Barber of Niagara Falls, N.Y.

The Rhinelanders skedaddled gratefully from the big city to Philadelphia after absorbing their fourth straight defeat without a victory at the hands of the National League champions.

Meet Phillies

The Cincinnatians hope for better treatment in Shibe Park today. They have beaten the Philadelphia Phillies twice at a Crosley Field double-header, but the scores were by one-run margins, 5-4 and 8-7.

Cincinnati will send in Ewell Blackwell (1-4) today to face Robin Roberts of the Phils (5-1).

The older professor, Kenny Raffensberger, did not have the old control Wednesday as the New Yorkers worked him over enough in two innings to smear Ken with his third setback, 8-3.

The loss dropped Cincinnati 4½ games off the pace while giving the Giants their fifth straight win and a sweep of the two-game series.

The Reds had Maglie gasping in the third, but didn't follow through. Joe Rossi opened with a triple into the left-field bullpen and Maglie then walked Roy McMillan and pinch-hitter Johnny Temple. Grady Hatton's fly scored Rossi, but Bobby Adams and Johnny Wyrostek were easy outs and one run was all the Reds got.

McMillan homered in the fifth for the second Redleg run and the Reds picked up an unearned run in the seventh, aided by a two-base wild throw by Alvin Dark.

Today's tilt with the Phils will be the first of a three-game series.

Staley Wins Sixth

Gerry Staley, beaten only by Maglie in compiling a 6-1 record for St. Louis, shoved Brooklyn another game behind the Giants with a steady six-hitter for a 5-1 victory. Solly Hemus was the big hitter for the Cards, hammering home three runs with a home run and triple. The homer came off loser Chris Van Cuyk, the triple off Reliefer Ralph Branca.

After Tuesday's trade, the Cards presented a revamped infield with Dick Sisler, an old Card of 1946-47 vintage, returning from Cincinnati to take over first base. Manager Eddie Stanky benched himself to return Red Schoendienst to second and reinstated Billy Johnson as his third basemen. Only Hemus remained.

With Granny Hamner and Willie Jones doing the heavy bombing, Russ Meyer finally dodged the hard luck that trailed him in four previous games to lift the Phillies over Chicago, 9-2.

Hamner homered, tripled and singled while Jones drove in four runs with his fifth homer and a single. Bob Kelly was the loser.

Pete Whisenant's single with the bases loaded, juggled by Shortstop George Strickland just long enough to let Jack Daniels score, gave the Boston Braves a 10th inning 4-3 edge over Pittsbugh.

Bosox Bumped

The Boston Red Sox continued to wrestle with their same old problem—how to win away from Fenway Park—as they lost their sixth straight on the road, 6-3, at Chicago. Rain forced the umpires to call the game after seven innings.

Newly-wed Vic Wertz rejoined the Detroit Tigers and blasted a tie-breaking home run off Washington's Sid Hudson in the eighth for a 3-2 win. Art Houtteman turned back the Senators, who had won nine of their last 10, with a six-hitter.

The St. Louis Browns snapped out of a batting slump to rack up four Philadelphia pitchers with a 16-hit attack as they broke a three-game losing streak with a 12-7 win. Satch Paige kept the Browns in front with a fine relief job after Gene Bearden faltered in the seventh.

Galion Drops Third, 4-0, At Norwalk

Meet Port Clinton Friday in Regional Tourney at Findlay

GALION — The Galion High School Tigers were handed their third loss of the baseball season Wednesday by Norwalk, 4-0. The Northern Ohio League game was played at Norwalk.

With a 14-3 mark for the season, the Tigers will travel to Findlay for the regional semi-finals Friday. They will be pitted against a strong Port Clinton team at 3:15.

Six Galion errors aided the Norwalk crew in posting its win. Hal Beach, Tiger hurler, allowed only five hits and struck out five. Loose fielding by his teammates brought about the defeat. Norwalk's Schaffer gave up three hits and also struck out five.

Calls Rocky Best Slugger In Ring Game

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The spruce, dapper figure who stood in the center of the room with a swansdown topcoat draped negligently over an arm and held his audience rapt with a flow of the purest malarkey was old Doc Kearns, perhaps the most fabulous of all the fight managers.

"This Rocky Marciano," the 69-year-old Barnum was saying, solemnly, "is the hardest hitter in the game today. He hits harder than Jack Dempsey ever did. Dempsey chopped you up, but this Marciano can kill you with one belt. He's the nearest thing to Fitzsimmons as a hitter that I've seen."

There were a series of broad winks behind the old Doc's back. This, coming from the man who brought Dempsey out of the west and steered the Manassa Mauler to lasting glory, seemed to border on sacrilege. And then one recalled that the great team broke up angrily at the height of Dempsey's career. They were supposed to have shaken hands and made up a few years back."

"RAY ROBINSON IS another great fighter," Kearns continued smoothly "It might have been the worst mistake I ever made when I matched my boy Joey Maxim with him. Ray can do everything and I know he's going to give Joey trouble. I wouldn't have made it except that he needed the money."

After that one, the man who made a couple of fortunes managing Dempsey and Mickey Walker and tossed them away on high living which did not include the ballet, paused and permitted himself a brief smile. Doc knew he wasn't fooling anyone within earshot. The boys on the fight beat know that both Doc and his champion consider Sugar Ray a soft touch. But Kearns loved it, just the same. Someone asked him why he was shilling for Marciano

"Oh, it's always good to give a boy a boost. It all helps the fight game," he said.

Perhaps so, but it also is true that Marciano, known as the Brockton Block Buster, is managed by Marty Weill, the stepson of Al Weill, who is matchmaker for the International Boxing Club, which bestows all blessings. Al used to manage Marciano, himself before he became matchmaker, and it is no exaggeration to say that he still is vitally interested in Rocky's quest of the heavyweight title.

IT ALSO WOULD be only natural if a pilot of Kearns' talents were looking beyond Maxim's coming duel with Robinson and on to another fine pay day—against, for instance, a drawing card named Marciano. Obviously, as the Doc implies, Maxim would have small chance against a ring killer of Rocky's caliber. Or would he?

These are great days and nights in every respect for Kearns. After the long, lean years in which he did the best he could and hung hopefully around the fringes of boxing high society, the dude is back for a final fling at the big time. He doesn't have a great fighter in Maxim, not one in the mold of Dempsey and Walker, at least. But he has a real good one, whom he personally rescued from the scrap heap, and Maxim, if anything, is the luckier one of the pair.

Jug Prospects To Run At Hilliard Raceway

COLUMBUS (UP) — Nodaway, a top prospect for the 1952 Little Brown Jug, will make this season's debut at nearby Hilliard Raceway which opens a 41-night meet June 3.

Owner and trainer Roy Near of Marysville checked in the highly regarded candidate for the Jug, richest event in harness racing at $65,000, at the Hilliard oval today.

Nodaway won seven of his 24 starts a year ago and gathered in more than $3,000 in purses. The handsome chestnut launched his racing career in last year's Hilliard meeting.

Nodaway finished third in 2.02 at Lexington Trots last year after turning in a winning performance in the Ohio Breeders two-year-old pace at Delaware.

SIT DOWN STRIKE. Sir Lionel, a high-spirited thoroughbred, threw his jockey and staged a sit down strike in the starting gate before the fourth race at Garden State Park in Camden, N. J. Attendants are shown helping Sir Lionel to his feet. The horse was uninjured and Jockey George Hettinger remounted. Sir Lionel ran and finished last.

Feller Fails

Bauer Leads Yankees To 5-3 Win Over Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Yankees just wouldn't roll over and play dead again for Cleveland's Indians.

The Tribesmen found that out Wednesday night as the New York world champions finally regained—for the time being at least — their Indian sign over Cleveland.

After winning all four of their encounters this season, the first-place Indians dropped a 5-3 decision.

The two clubs end the three-game series today with Early Wynn (4-2) opposing the Yankees' Ed Lopat (1-2), one time Tribe nemesis.

Tobacco-chewing Johnny Sain and Hammerin' Hank Bauer played the biggest role in the Yank's victory. Sain faced only 12 batters in the last four innings in posting his third victory. He gave up nine hits.

His appearance marked the first time he had started against the Indians since he bested Bob Feller 1-0 in the 1948 World Series. Sain then was a member of the Boston Braves.

Feller Lifted

Feller opposed him again, and was charged with the loss after being removed in the sixth with the score tied and runners on first and third

Sam Jones, his replacement, promptly tossed a wild pitch, allowing pinch-runner Jim Brideweser to romp home with the Yanks' fourth run.

Bauer's contributions were a three-run homer that put New York ahead in the third and a double in the seventh that gave the Yanks their final marker. The blow brought in Sain, who had singled.

In all, the Yanks made nine hits off Feller, Jones anod Lou Brissie, who went in at the start of the eighth after Jones was removed for pinch-hitter Pete Reiser.

The Indians picked up two runs on Dale Mitchell's single in the opening frame and then tied the score 3-3 in the fifth when Harry Simpson scored from second on Larry Doby's infield roller.

Lemon Faces Nats

Bob Lemon will hurl Friday night when the Tribe faces the Washington Senators in the Nats' first visit here this season. Mike Garcia will be on the mound for Saturday's game.

SIGNED BY MARIETTA

MARIETTA, O. (AP)—Fred Pierson of Washington Court house Wednesday was named head football and basketball coach at Marietta High School. He was chosen from 82 applicants. In seven seasons at Washington, C.H., Pierson's grid teams won 44, lost 19, and tied two. He succeeds Karl Hiebel as grid coach, and Charles Bolin as basketball mentor. Both resigned recently.

Won't Report, Says Optioned Stirnweiss

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians optioned him to Indianapolis, but Snuffy Stirnweiss says he will not go back to the minors.

The utility infielder told a newsman he had an appointment to talk with General Manager Hank Greenberg today and added:

"I definitely am not going back to the minors.

"I was surprised, actually shocked, when I was told I had been optioned out. I never expected it.

"This is my 10th season in the majors. "I've been on three world championship clubs," he continued. "No, I'm not going back to the minors at my age." He is 32.

"I have a boy six years old who'll be in the minors himself in about 10 years. I'd be better off going home and working with him."

He said that "during the winter Baltimore wanted me as their manager. The Indians wouldn't sell me, so I didn't get the job. I don't see going back as a player when I could have been in the minors as a manager."

Stirnweiss began his pro career at Norfolk in 1940 and moved to Newark in the International League that same year. By 1942 he moved to the New York Yankees where he stayed for seven seasons. He won the American League batting championship with a .309 average in 1945. Three of the Yank clubs he played on won the World Series.

The Yanks traded him to the St. Louis Browns in 1950.

In 1951 he came to the Tribe.

Blues Win, 7-6, Near First Place

By The Associated Press

An 11th inning home run by Bill Renna with one on gave the surging Kansas City Blues a 7-6 decision over Louisville Wednesday night and hauled them to within 1½ games of the American Association pacesetting Milwaukee Brewers.

The Brewers game with Indianapolis at Milwaukee was rained out.

Renna's smash was the longest homer of the season at the Blues stadium.

Third-place Minneapolis, with a chance to boost its lead over Louisville, lost a 4-2 decision to Toledo. Hank Behrman won with a six hitter, giving up a walk, wild pitch and two singles for the Millers' two runs in the fourth

Another lusty hit, a 450-foot triple into the corner of Lexington Park by Ed Amoros drove in the winning run in the last of the 10th to give St. Paul a 9-8 edge over Columbus. The Saints collected 16 hits off three opposing pitchers, four of them by Jack Cassini and three by Bob Wilson.

Cage Tourney Attendance Sets New Mark

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A total of 902,560 fans watched Ohio's basketball tournament games last season and paid a record $582,058.02 to do it

The financial report on the championship games—all the way from county tournaments to the state finals—was issued Wednesday by the office of H. W. Einswiler, Ohio High School Athletic Association commissioner.

The previous record gate receipts was in 1949. Then 911,977 customers paid $566,171.90 to see the tilts.

The state finals set new marks both in attendance and receipts. The championship games drew 49,154 customers who paid $38,327.12

Another record was the OHSAA share of the receipts. The association took in $83,380.79, washing out the previous high mark of $67,746.61 taken out in 1949

The tax share this year was only $8,957.48, compared to $101,872.07 a year ago. This came about due to the elimination of the federal tax

The Wood County Tournament attracted 14,172 paid customers to set the pace in early tournaments. Stark County was second with 12,645.

The biggest of the regional meets was at Canton, where both Class A and B attracted 12,043 fans. Cincinnati was second

Harding Completes Undefeated Track Season

Prexies Post Easy Win, Set For District

Harding's sizzling cindermen swamped Lima South, 99½-17½, for their third straight undefeated season in dual track meets at Lima Wednesday.

Saturday the Prexy stars will journey to Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware in search of the first Harding district championship. Nine of the finest senior tracksters that Harding has produced will be together as a team for the last time at the district event.

Only the three top qualifiers in each event will go on to the state meet next week. Coach Kenny Somerlot said he will take a squad of 27 men to Delaware.

Strong Wind

The wind was as much an obstacle as Lima South Wednesday. Dashes and hurdles were run against a wind so strong that it took some time before the hurdles could be kept standing to start competition.

Paul Geissler and John Ashworth again sparked the Prexies by winning six of the 14 Marion firsts. Geissler scored 20 points on his four starts.

The Prexies made a clean sweep of all first places.

Fifteen teams will be out for the district Class A title at Ohio Wesleyan Saturday and 15 schools will compete for the Class B track crown.

Harding will get tough going from Columbus Central. The Columbus tracksters will be seeking their sixth straight championship. Since the district event was started in 1926, Central has grabbed 18 titles and tied for another. Last year they scored 66 points in taking the crown.

Monarchs Defend Title

Marysville will be defending champ in Class B track events. The Monarchs tallied 53½ points to win the district crown for the first time last year. Worthington, winner of six previous titles, is back in Class B competition after one season in Class A and is favored to dethrone Marysville.

Claridon, Morral, Pleasant, and Richwood are entered in the Class B meet.

Here's the rundown on the Harding victory over Lima South:

Salas Upsets Carter, Wins Split Decision

24-Year-Old Mexican Crowned Lightweight King

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New York's Jimmy Carter won the lightweight championship in an upset, he lost it the same way, and so today the boxing world greeted a new ruler of the 135-pound division—Lauro Salas of Monterrey, Mex.

Just as 26-year-old Carter captured the crown with a surprise 14-round knockout over Ike Williams last May 25, so did Carter create a surprise by dropping it to his 24-year-old rival, a comparative unknown in title circles, in 15 rounds Wednesday night.

True, the decision was a split one, and many boxing writers disagreed with the verdict. But the fact remained today — the new champion is Lauro Salas, a youngster who, like Carter not too long ago, was getting nowhere in boxing until he was ushered into the title picture.

If there was divided opinion among the officials—the referee called the fight for Carter, the two judges overruled him—and sharp disagreement among the experts, certainly there was nothing but international joy stretching from Los Angeles' Olvera Street to all parts south of the border.

Salas is the first native Mexican to win an undisputed world championship.

Win For Mexico

"This was no win for myself alone," exclaimed the tempestuous Salas. "I am glad for the people of Mexico—the Mexican people here, the people in Mexico."

With that, Salas waved a sheaf of letters from his countrymen, including a special delivery from the mayor of Monterrey, wishing him luck before the bout.

Promoter Cal Eaton promptly began efforts from a rematch as provided in the fighters' contracts in the event of a Salas upset. It calls for a rematch within 60 days, but both fight camps indicated they might like a little longer interval.

Carter, dethroned in his third defense of the title, was disconsolate. So was his manager, Veteran Willie Ketchum, who declared: "Jimmy got tired but I don't know how they saw the other guy winning."

Referee Frankie Van gave Carter the bout on points, 83-82 on the California 11-point per round system. Judge Mushy Callahan called it for Salas, 84-81, and Judge Joe Stone had it 83½-81½. The Associated Press scored it 83-82 for Carter, and accorded Carter the heavier volume of solid punches. The bout attracted 7,742 fans and the gross gate was $31,748.10 plus $17,500 for the television rights.

Most of the 15 rounds were packed with action, but there were no knockdowns.

Salas captured the best round, the second, when he sent Jimmy tipsying across the ring from two hard rights to the jaw, delivered in rapid succession.

Crowd Pleaser

And he captured the fancy of the crowd, unquestionably a partisan turnout, with his rally in the last five rounds.

Salas came back nicely, if not spectacularly, after the big Salas second round, and by the 10th was coasting along on top. He worked in businesslike fashion, jabbing Salas out of a crouch, and banging away with both hands.

Salas started to come back in the 10th but got nowhere. But from the 11th on, he was a ball of fire, lashing away from all angles. He missed countless times, but by then Carter was tiring and unable to counter effectively.

"I just didn't seem to have the zip," Carter admitted.

Rain Halts Industrial Loop Tilts; C&O, Huber Post Wins

Only two games were played in the Industrial League No. 2 Wednesday night as showers caused postponement of the final two scheduled games at Garfield Park.

In the opener at Garfield, the C. & O. Railroad squad dumped McMillen Feed with a four-run rally in the sixth inning by a 6-5 count. After jumping into a 4-0 lead in the third inning, the Feed Millers succumbed to a fourth and sixth inning barrage of base hits which netted the winners their total of six runs. The C. & O. garnered its winning tallies in the sixth on five hits and a base on balls. McMillen punched three runs over in the third frame when Tom Oder drilled a home run against the fence in deep left center with two men on the bags.

At McKinley, Huber scored 26 runs to 4 for the Ohio Associated Telephone Company, scoring in every inning of the ball game. The Telephone Company unable to use their ace pitcher, Mel Weston, until the Commission rules on his eligibility, were at the mercy of the loud bats of the Huber and poor fielding support. The losers committed nine errors while the winners were pounding out a total of 19 hits.

The game between Marion Metal and Jay Maish as well as the Baker Wood vs. Fairfield game will be made-up one week from Friday, May 23. Times of these games will be announced at a later date.

Gushing Oil First Entry In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) —Gushing Oil, who flew in from Churchill Downs, became the first entry in the 1952 Preakness today.

Trainer Whitney Jansen put Gushing Oil's name in the entry box a few minutes after it was opened for starters in the $75,000-added classic set for Saturday.

In all, about 12 entries are expected in the 76th run for the blackeyed susans. The box will remain open Friday.

Gushing Oil, owned by Sam Wilson Jr., ran a poor eleventh in the Derby. He had suffered a stone bruise before the big May 3 race. The Wilson colt had not been figured last week as a probable starter but after Calumet Farm's Hill Gail was taken out, Gushing Oil came in by plane.

The second Preakness entry was Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' One Count, second to Armageddon last week in the Withers Mile at Belmont. Trainer Oscar White put in One Count's name a few minutes after 8 a.m.

Eddie Arcara, who was to have ridden Hill Gail in the Preakness, will be up on One Count.

Rams, Nevada Win Upper Track Meet

UPPER SANDUSKY — Upper Sandusky's Rams replaced Willard and Nevada's Bobcats took over for Harpster as champions in the two divisions of the third Annual Upper Night Relays held here Tuesday evening.

Upper Sandusky won in division one with 91 points. Richwood had 70, Bowling Green, 66, Bellevue 60, Willard 28 and Port Clinton 17. In the second division, Nevada had 41 points, Harpster 32, Sycamore, 30, Old Fort 25 and Marseilles 8. Five records were broken in the two divisions.

Longden Shoots For No. 4,000 At California Track

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — If Jockey Johnny Longden doesn't ride his 4,000th winning mount today there's something wrong with the law of averages.

The 42-year-old veteran rang up win No. 3,999 Wednesday and has signed up for seven races this afternoon—riding favorites in two and second choices in two others.

Longden, who came to Hollywood Park needing three wins to reach 4,000, scored once Tuesday but hit only one out of seven tries Wednesday.

The only other man in racing history to win 4,000 or more is Gordon Richards of England, who is still active.

Mark Twain's Cousin Visits In Marion

Now Working On Book About President Harding

Cyril Clemens, cousin of Mark Twain and editor of the Mark Twain Quarterly, was a visitor in Marion Tuesday and Wednesday. Mark Twain was the pen name of Samuel Clemens.

Enroute from Toledo, where he addressed the Exchange Club Monday on the topic, "Laughing and Joking With Mark Twain," to his home in Webster Groves, Mo., his visit here was to gather glimpses into the life of Warren G. Harding from personal friends and acquaintances of the former President.

The author of a number of biographies, among them one of Clement Richard Attlee, "The Man from Missouri," a biography of President Truman, and "Mark Twain and Franklin D Roosevelt," Mr. Clemens is now working on a book about President Harding. Gathering his material for more than 20 years, he has contacted, either personally or by letter sisters of the President, the late Mrs. Carrie Votaw of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. Charity M. Remsberg of Santa Ana, Calif., men who served in his cabinet and with him in the Senate, and many personal friends. A correspondent of Dr Carl W. Sawyer for a number of years, he spent a short time with him while here.

Mr. Clemens publications include some 10 books on the various aspects of the life of his famous cousin.

He recalls meeting briefly while a student at Washington University, and last saw him in 1923 when he went to Arlington Cemetery to place a wreath at the grave of the Unknown Soldier. An ardent admirer of Mr. Harding, he terms him "a great man."

The visit was Mr. Clemens first to Marion. He spent some time at the Harding Home, and also the Harding Memorial. The Memorial, he believes, is the most beautiful of all erected to the Presidents.

Accompanying Mr. Clemens was his mother, Mrs. James Ross Clemens.

Marion Club Hears Talk By Illinois Man

Lester O. Schriver Speaks at Meeting Of Executives' Group

Lester O. Schriver of Peoria, Ill., was speaker at Wednesday's meeting of the Executives' Club at Hotel Harding. He spoke on "Streamlining Your Philosophy of Life."

He said the most important things for a workable philosophy of life are a sense of humor, an open and expanding mind, a realistic point of view, an awareness of life, the ability to know and like people, and a taste for the beautiful.

He illustrated his talk with many short stories, some of them taken from his study of the life of Abraham Lincoln. He has been given an honorary degree at the Lincoln Memorial University.

He said we must be realists in this streamlined, jet-propelled, atomic age. He pointed out that a lack of a sense of realism was primarily responsible for World War II.

Schriver remarked that struggle is a part of life and we must seek no escape, but rather develop a clear understanding. A "nursemaid state" would eventually destroy initiative, all sense of responsibility, all self-reliance and even progress itself, he said.

Schriver was introduced by Earl Andrews, club secretary. This was the last meeting of the year for the club which will begin their meetings again in September.

Schriver is general agent for the Aetna Life Insurance Co. in Peoria, Ill. in charge of 77 counties in Illinois. He has been active in community affairs in Peoria. He is director of the Peoria Citizens' Forum, the Peoria Community Fund, the Peoria YMCA, the George Washington Carver Community Center, the Peoria Civic Association and the Peoria Gridiron Committee.

Highlight of Weekday Classes

School Children Will Present Religious Play

ONE OF THE "most effective" projects of cooperative interdenominational work in Marion is the Weekday Religious Education program in the public schools. As a climax to this year's work, a large group of children from these classes, will be presented Sunday in a pageant which will be a resume of the year's study.

As part of the work of the Department of Christian Education of the Marion County Council of Churches, this program is carried out through the work of the Committee on Weekday Religious Education Chairman of this committee is Miss Neva Witthuhn, vice-chairman, Miss Reta Van Meter, and secretary, Miss Marie Johnson. The Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig, president of the Council of Churches, acts in advisory capacity to this committee. Two specially trained teachers are hired to do the actual teaching They are Mrs. Thelma Wilcox and Miss Garnet Laird. This work is supported and carried out through the combined efforts of 19 churches of this city. Through it 1,716 children in grades 3, 4, and 5 of the public schools are reached. It has been found that 19 per cent of these children receive no other religious instruction of any kind. The teaching is non-sectarian and is aimed at acquainting the children more thoroughly with basic principles common to all Christian churches and with helping them to apply those Christian principles to their everyday living.

THE PAGEANT WILL be given at Calvary EUB Church at 3 p.m. Sunday. At this time all interested people are invited to come and witness what has been done and is being done with the children who are affected by this program. The pageant, written by Mrs. Wilcox, is called "God's Plans". It is centered around a "Questioning Child," portrayed by Jack Waddell, who asks questions about God and His plan for the universe, for people and for the church. He receives his answers from 8 readers, Vicky Miller, Jay Gelbaugh, Jeffery Haberman, Leonette White, May Young, Gerry Bechtle, Nancy Bodell, and Larry Barnhart. These answers are interpreted by a verse speaking choir of 15 and a singing choir of 19 together with many other children who dramatize and pantomime the answers as they are given by the readers. More than 100 children will participate.

The opening service of worship will be led by a fifth grader, Robert Roades. The music will be under the direction of Miss Mary Smith, Trinity Baptist Church, and the piano accompaniment will be by Mrs. Howard Hinamon, music teacher, and the organ will be played by Mrs. J. W. Baker, organist of Calvary Church. Mrs. Wilcox and Miss Laird are co-directing the pageant. An offering to help support this work will be taken at this service.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

Harry Underwood was on his feet as he finished speaking and was towering over me, his brilliant black eyes flashing stormy disbelief at me, his whole attitude so skeptically insulting, that, if it had not been for my realization that Dicky would have behaved in exactly the same fashion had Lillian questioned my word my motives or my integrity, I should have left the studio in high dudgeon

Instead I did something even more infuriating I toned my voice down to what Dicky calls my "school-ma'am inflection," and waited an exasperating half-second before answering him

"I will give you answers—I trust satisfactory ones, but I can give you my word they will be truthful ones—to all your questions,' I told him "That is if you will accept my word that I am telling the truth Please remember that I am doing something most distasteful in telling you these things If I did not believe Lillian's sanity and Marion's happiness were at stake I would have left you in complete ignorance of the whole matter "

A slow flush came over his cheeks—something I never had seen during the long association of our families And, for several seconds, he did not look at me Then he raised his head, and his eyes met mine, steadily and resolutely

"I crave your forgiveness, Lady Fair," he said, with humility—and dignity—in his voice "But that implication about Lil drove me 'almost out of my mind "

The wraith of a smile quirked the corners of his mouth with his next words.

"Do you know what the Dicky-bird would have done, had Lil made a similar statement about you to him"" he asked "He wouldn't have taken time out to insult her, by virtually calling her a liar, as I did you He'd have grabbed her, put her across his knees and paddled her until she'd have had to sleep on her tummy and stand up for her meals "

"Yes, I'm afraid he would," I told him "and—just remember that's why Lillian and I swoon over you two as if we were bobby-soxers But—will you listen to me now?""

"I promise you solemnly that I won't interrupt again,' he said and I leaned forward in my chair, emphasizing my points with the tip of my right forefinger tapping the palm of my left hand

"First," I said 'I know I am right in saying that, while Lillian is perfectly well physically, this complex of hers about Ronald has become a dangerous obsession, a mental blind spot. She's her usual sane self about everything else, but, she approaches actual insanity when she talks about Ronald My father and Dicky think this, too, and they are as distressed about it as I am They agree that you are the only one who can hope to help her "

'Go on!" he said hoarsely, as I stopped.

At first," I said obediently, "she talked only about Ronald's disability, and the hard time Marion would have Then, one day she burst out with an agonized wail that she couldn't let Ronald marry Marion because Helena was his mother, and it was impossible for him not to have inherited the evil traits which we have discovered she possesses '

"No" he exploded 'I can't believe it Did you really hear her say that""

"In words of one syllable," I told him steadily, "and Dicky heard her also I didn't have to say anything, Dicky went to town and across it on that subject Lillian hasn't mentioned it since But I'm sure she still cherishes her belief "

Temporary teaching certificates are given persons who have completed two or more years of training but have not received degrees. While holding the temporary certificates, they must continue college work during summers.

Volcanoes and Bee Hives

IF YOU WERE running a television station and wanted a film on the Masai warriors, six-foot five-inch giants who have to kill a lion before they get married, your best bet would be to go to Sterling Films. They'd have it. Or just possibly you want a psychological film on marriage for moderns. Sterling has that, too.

Sterling has some 3,000 films, and you can pretty well take your choice. There is a tremendous reservoir of film in this country and in other countries, much of it conveniently paid for by individuals or universities or governments or foundations. A good deal of it television couldn't possibly afford to reproduce. But they can rent at at rates of from $5 a picture up.

STERLING CAN GIVE you a film of Spain's' great bull fighter, Manolete, as he was gored to death. Or it has on tap some priceless underwater shots of a bass striking bait. Or a couple of guys shooting the Colorado River. Or an educational film on thumb-sucking and its effect on the young. No matter what it is, says Saul Turell, president of Sterling, somebody has shot a film on it at one time or another.

Neither television nor Sterling nor any one else could begin to afford the original costs of some of these films. The Mexican government, for example, kept a camera on a new volcano for some five years. Sterling now has the best of the film—in case you're anxious to study the growth of a new volcano.

A GOOD MANY non-profit outfits—governments or universities, for example—produce tons of film and then shop around trying to find some way to distribute them, profit no object. Along came television to simplify the task enormously. Turell points out happily that TV had hours and hours of free time to fill. Sterling rushed into the breach. A city let us say, has three television stations. One of them hasn't got the coaxial cable and has a half hour to fill, as cheaply as possible, because the opposition which has the cable probably has most of the audience anyhow. He goes to Sterling and gets a film of a man riding a giant stingray like a surfboard.

A GOOD MANY OF Sterling's films occupy the unenviable position of filling time and keeping a station on the air while the citizenry, by and large, are off looking at another channel. Sterling's best-known show, "King's Crossroads," for instance, is up against two of the highest-rated shows on the air—Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" and the "Colgate Comedy Hour." Still, it draws down an 8 or 9 rating because there are always some people who prefer volcanoes to Ed Sullivan.

One thing Mr. Turell discovered is that people have to get an advance pitch to stay tuned. If you tell the customers they are about to see a day in the life of a chorus girl (one of the Sterling films), he'll hang around. Otherwise he'll go chasing Ed Sullivan. Before each film there is a little sales talk on what's coming up.

STERLING NOW SELLS its films to 108 of the 109 TV stations in this country. (The sole exception is a Jacksonville, Fla., station which stubbornly refuses to have anything to do with Sterling's films.) Far from dwindling, the demand is increasing year by year, the company's gross jumping from $100,000 to $500,000 to $1,000,000 in three years.

Meeting Set on Grade Crossing Elimination

First step toward elimination of railroad crossings in Marion will be put before city and county officials in a special meeting next Tuesday.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson has asked members of City Council, the County Board of Commissioners, members of the Chamber of Commerce joint grade crossing elimination-streets and highways committee, and other officials to attend a meeting to hear N. W. Wilke, chief planning engineer of the State Highway Department.

Wilke will explain the possibilities of Marion eliminating its grade crossings. He will speak concerning the financial and engineering aspects of such a program.

Mayor Robinson said he considered it a possibility. He said other Ohio cities had taken advantage of federal and state aid to construct tunnels and bridges to eliminate grade crossings. Such a project is now being carried on in Fostoria and actual construction has begun, he said.

C. of C. Pushes Plan

The grade crossing elimination issue has come up many times in past years. The Marion Chamber of Commerce has been pushing the plan the last few years.

Recently, the joint committee of the Chamber and city officials went to Columbus to interview state engineers on the subject. They were told the first step toward the program would be a survey by engineers of the entire Marion grade crossing problem and formation of a plan to eliminate the crossings with tunnels and bridge works.

In 1948 Marion negotiated with the railroads a plan to raise the C & O Railroad and Pennsylvania Railroad tracks through the city. The cost at that time was estimated at $16 million.

Mayor Robinson said he and other officials were told at Columbus the first step toward the project would be a survey by competant consulting engineers. Cost of the survey was estimated from $15,000 to $30,000, he said. Most of the cost of the survey would be paid by the state with 25 per cent being paid by the city and county, he said.

He said after the survey, work would proceed on a step by step basis. The most important project would be completed first, the second in the next five years, and so on.

Federal State Aid

Under the present setup 50 per cent of the construction would be paid by the federal government, 40 per cent by the state, and 10 per cent locally, Mayor Robinson said. The local funds would have to be secured either by bond issue or public subscription, with the affected railroads contributing a certain amount, he said.

These percentages were made possible by legislative grants in 1947 and 1949, but the funds are almost used up and projects built after this year may have to be built with straight 25 per cent local participation, he said.

Bright colored orioles, 10 varieties of wrens and four kinds of humming birds—among them the calliope, the smallest in North America — are found in New Mexico.

Report Lauds OWU Course In Politics

Outstanding Program, Say Researchers In Applied Politics Field

DELAWARE, O. — A newly published report on "Preparing College Men and Women for Politics," made to the Citizenship Clearing House of New York University's Law School, cites Ohio Wesleyan University's Institute of Practical Politics as an outstanding program in the nation.

The report was made by Drs. Thomas H. and Doris D. Reed, husband and wife team, under a grant from the Maurice and Laura Falk Foundation of Pittsburgh.

After a year's study of the courses in American colleges designed to encourage their graduates to take an active part in politics, the Reeds conclude that if colleges do not succeed in training students for participation in politics, "it may make little difference what else they do . . ."

The Reed Report states, "The most striking instance with which we have come in contact of what a good teacher and a favorable institutional climate can accomplish is at Ohio Wesleyan University . . . located at Delaware, O."

Continued the Reeds, "We have visited no college where the intensity of general student interest in politics or the number of students actually taking a real part in it equals what we found at Ohio Wesleyan.

"The credit for this belongs very largely to Professor Ben Arneson who for 34 years has seldom missed an opportunity to urge on students the obligation to participate in politics . . .

"One of Arneson's students was Arthur Fleming, subsequently chairman of the United States Civil Service Commission and for the past few years president of Ohio Wesleyan.

"Since his return to the campus as president there have been established under Professor Arneson's direction the 'Institute of Practical Politics' and provision for giving college credit for work with an administrative agency or a political party, chiefly in the summer.

"These two devices have raised interest in politics to a new high," observed the Reeds.

HERE'S A GOOD ONE. DOOFUSS WAS ALWAYS BOASTING ABOUT HIS GOLF. THREE OF HIS FRIENDS DECIDED TO GIVE HIM THE ACID TEST
THEY INVITED HIM TO PLAY ON A STRANGE COURSE WITH THEM. DOOFUSS ARRIVED IN A BEAUTIFUL COSTUME AND 19 CLUBS IN HIS BAG
ON THE FIRST TEE HE TOOK A CAREFUL STANCE AND THEN FANNED THE AIR FOUR TIMES. AFTER THE FOURTH WHIFF HE GROWLED, "THIS IS THE HARDEST COURSE I EVER PLAYED."
BUT YOU SAID IT WAS A STRANGE COURSE, SO HOW COULD HE KNOW IT WAS A HARD ONE?
